Look at This!

Deer Valley High School
18424 N. 51st Avenue
Glendale, Arizona 85308

Soaring '87
Volume 7

Look at This!

New principal Dr. Jim Smith often arrives in school before 6 a.m. "My intention is to get my desk cleared and get a head start on the day," he said.

Look at this! New administrators and a new football coach all in one year! Mr. Jerry Smith, associate principal, and Ms. Barb Daggett, vice principal in charge of attendance, joined the front office team along with Mr. Wayne Kindall (not pictured). Mr. Tony Valenzuela became head football coach replacing Mr. Rick Johnson.

NEW LEADERS SERVE UP A 'LOOKING GOOD' YEAR

Skyhawk unity. That's an important goal for new student body president Chris Kieselbach. "It will be a big accomplishment to Deer Valley if we can achieve this goal," she said.

Donated to the school by the Class of '86 in May 1986, the bronze Skyhawk added a new look to this year's campus environment.

Do you remember? No, not 1984. It wasn't '85 either. No. The one that stood out was 1986-87. The Year that made you sit up and take notice. The year that made you look. Look at the new Skyhawk hanging from the performing arts building. Look at new Principal E. Jim Smith. Look at our first woman administrator, Ms. Barbara Daggett. The year that made you look at yourself, and the world, in a whole new way. Yeah. That was the year.

Return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear ... to Deer Valley High School — and your lives — 1986-87-style. Tell the stories to your friends now and to your children someday. Show 'em the pictures. They'll laugh. You'll laugh. And remember. There's a lot to think about as that amazing year comes back to life ... Look ... at ... this!

OPENING DAY SEES DROP IN ENROLLMENT, ROOM TO BREATHE

You had nightmares about it for weeks. Just thinking about it made you claustrophobic. It was the dreaded first day, and last year the crowded halls, classes, and parking lots were enough to make you wish you were still in the sixth grade. This year could only be worse. Right?

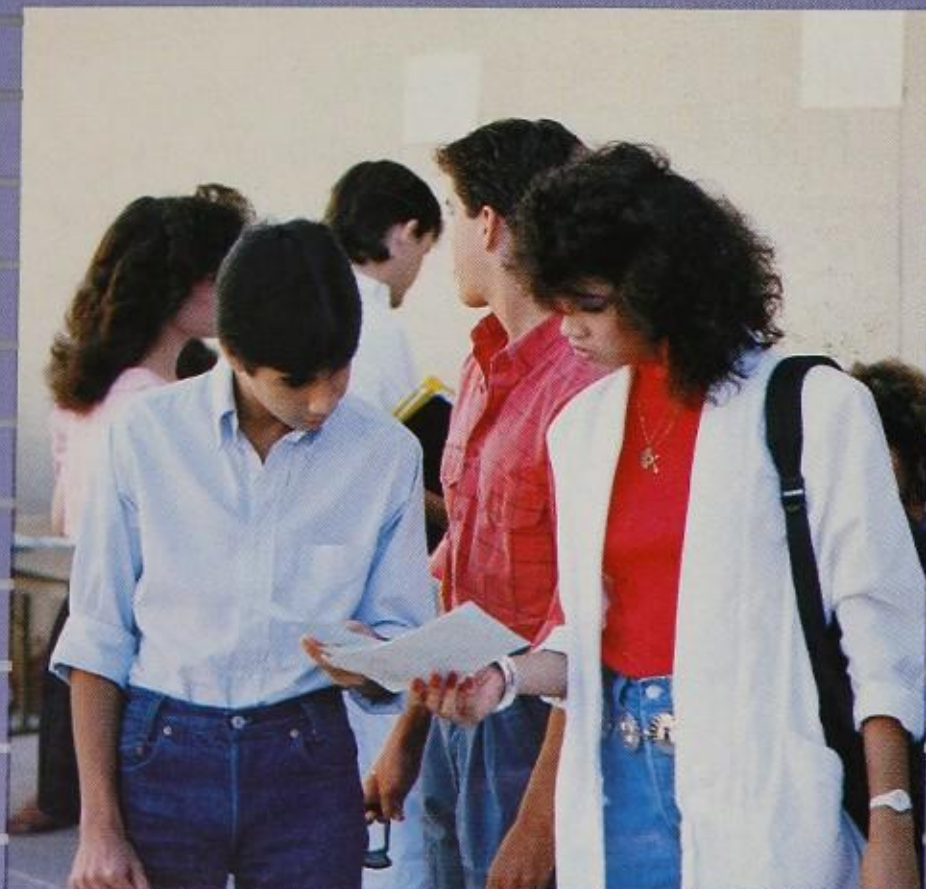

Wrong! With the district's second high school open, DV's student population dropped over 1200. Hard to believe? But nevertheless, there you were September 2nd, able to breathe. Able to see both sides of the halls. Able to sit at a desk, and not on the floor. Able to park at this high school, instead of Greenway.

Right then, you knew it. It was going to be a special year. Things were changing, and definitely for the better.

Jennifer Jones, senior, offers assistance to fellow student, Frank Raskow, senior.

New books are a symbol of the first day and sophomore Mark Matthews has an armload of them to store in his locker.

Seniors Trevor Meskimen and Peter Palomares and Kevin Pittman, junior, consult a campus map for possible building changes.

The first day of school brings much confusion for students, even though there were fewer people roaming around campus. This confusion is reflected in senior Tammi Phillips' expression.

STUDENT LIFE

Forget the big stuff for a minute. Don't think about concepts, about "Why we were there", or "What my education means to me". Take off those rose-colored glasses and take a look at this . . . the day-to-day life you faced. The weekend you nearly got arrested for surfing on the roof of your friend's Buick. The job you had mopping floors at McDonald's until 3 a.m. and how you felt the next mornings. The sports you played, whether you were any good or not. The locker you kept all your . . . things in. That dreaded first day. And the best part — those special friends that made it all worthwhile.

So look back. Look at where you were, and who you were, in 1986-1987. It was the best of times. It was the worst of times. But it was, and forever will be, your time.

Relax! Lunch break provides a time when senior David Small can be himself.

Spirit time! Cheering at assemblies reflects the individual involvement of each Skyhawk, especially senior Traci Lange.

Celebrate! Spirit line enjoys a good time after a game performance.

Study! The wonderful world of English has a grip on seniors Tim Bauer and Kelly Kroll.

Upperclassmen get confused, too! Seniors Becky McVey, Heidi Bader and Vicky Breese compare schedules as junior Sheri Scarpatti looks on.

Look at students Lee Litzler, junior, John Burditt, senior, Warren Williams, senior, and Gary Rapp, senior. These friends have gathered outside the cafeteria on an October afternoon!

SENIORS RECALL 'AGAPE,' ANTICIPATE GRADUATION

What does being a senior in the 1986-87 school year really mean? Its been a year of video taped movies, a year of new technology in cars, television and in stereos of all types.

But as always there is a tradition. The tradition of excellence, accomplishment, and the feeling of twelve years of hard work finally paying off.

Everyone has his/her own personal feelings on what it means to be a senior.

When there is a long period of time, there are always memories. Good or bad, funny or serious, you will always have memories. High school memories are the most memorable memories of all. How could we ever forget Mr. Nichlas' "agape", the long lunch lines, and the school food?

Follow the arrow straight ahead as seniors Buddy Bugh, Nick Krantz, and Russ Gibson feast before upcoming game against Greenway on October 3.

Helping the Senior capture the Spirit Stick at the first fall assembly on September 12, Damian May claps his hands and yells.

HAWAIIAN THEME MOTIVATES SPIRIT WEEK PARTICIPANTS

Hawaiian fever hit October twentieth through the twenty-fourth as Spirit Week arrived. Students had the opportunity to wear outrageous sunglasses on Sunglasses Day, and at lunch they had a chance to dunk the teacher of their choice at the dunk tank for only a quarter. Teachers who participated were: Mr. Allen, Mr. Smith, Mr. Kindall, and Coach Valenzuela, to name a few. Also on Sunglasses Day students were able to judge the best legs contest. Winners were Michele Benizen and Mike Tedeschi. When asked what she thought of the day, Tracey Mertens, senior, said "I really enjoyed myself, and it was a lot of fun."

On Tuesday it was time to break out your favorite hats for Crazy Hats Day. Hats that looked like dogs, army helmets, and sailors caps were only a few of the many crazy hats around campus. When asked her reaction to that day, Beth Jones, sophomore said, "It was really great." At Lunch that day, a pie eating contest was held. The winners were Jim Germiaro, first lunch, and Buddy Bugh at second lunch.

Look Out! Senior Chris Wood and Sophomore Therese Bomberg model their outrageous sunglasses to celebrate outrageous sunglass day during spirit week!

Joey Saputo, Freshman, tries to hold his own in a fierce pie eating competition.

Spirit Week

Senior Steve Viles displays his crazy hat during Homecoming Spirit Week.

Crazy Sunglass Day offered the chance to express individuality. Sophomore Elena Gorut chooses feminine bows and senior Mark Pettit goes crazy with pipe cleaners.

Charlie Chaplin in a Mickey Mouse shirt? No, it's junior Charlie Carlson!

"Throw the ball and make my day!" yell teachers Mr. Allen and Mr. Kafouros as several students call their bluff and pay to dunk them in the cold water tank.

Go Hawaiian!

Wrecking the rocket was on the Skyhawks mascot's mind as the student body was preparing for the Homecoming game against Moon Valley.

Balloons by HERO added to the fun in the eyes of juniors Chris Weeden and Tammy Martin.

TOURIST DAY TOPS WEEKLONG CELEBRATION

On Wednesday it was the time to go places as Tourist Day hit Deer Valley. Anyone from Hawaiians to snowbirds could be seen.

On Thursday it was the thing to go Hawaiian as Hula-Lei Day came into view. At lunch there was the famed hula-hoop contest.

On Friday it was Blue and Silver day as the students showed their school spirit by dressing up in school colors. Senior Mike Hawks said, "It's a great way to show your school spirit, but not enough people participated." After second hour, there was an assembly and the Spirit Line cheered on the seniors as they once again won the Spirit Stick.

At the annual pig-kissing contest, Mrs. Joanne Talarico, English teacher, won with honors as the pig squealed his delight.

Senior Christa Tomei dresses up a tourist, one of the exciting things that students could participate in during Spirit Week.

Carried away! Playing around during Tourist Day were seniors Tim Carrington and Steve Merryman.

Hanging cameras and map checking signify tourist time. Seniors Steve Merryman, Cindy Huber, and Andrea Hobi have the act down pat for Tourist Day.

Homecoming '87

On October 24, the day had finally arrived, Homecoming. Yes, Homecoming day was here at last, the parade, the royalty, the floats and of course the football game against Moon Valley. At half-time the royalty was announced and the student body went crazy with applause. After the royalty was announced the floats and clubs made their appearance. The floats were looking great and the clubs were waving their banners wildly.

When asked what she thought of the festivities, Ginger Fuson replied

"This year's homecoming was very exciting. It was great to see so many people getting involved in our school spirit."

Even though the football game wasn't what we had expected, the students still managed to keep the school spirit. "The homecoming was exciting with the parade, the band's excellent effort and the competition. Even though the actual game was a disappointment the school spirit was extremely high. Overall it went very well." said Mike Irwin, senior.

Senior Susi Link shows off the popular grass skirt costume - much to the delight of senior Tim Carrington and junior Steve Gerlock.

The enthusiasm was overwhelming on the freshman float after the Homecoming Parade.

Senior Dave Dumon is surrounded by his classmates who were all transported to Gilligan's Island on the senior float.

Huddling before the play, the offensive line shares a moment of game strategy.

Sophomore Toby Thomas is surrounded by smiling classmates as the sophomore float wins first prize in the class competition.

Senior Heather McIntyre updates an ancient Hawaiian ritual, the hula dance.

Long hours of sweat and frustration were worth the effort when the juniors saw their Homecoming float.

With three successful school years behind them Heather McIntyre and Todd Chartier, Seniors, were cast as Homecoming Senior attendants.

The Sophomore class selected members Sherri Woods and Vinnie Capasso, to represent their class as this year's attendant winners.

The class of '88 announced Amber Upton and John Hogebaum, as their attendant candidate winners.

Elected by the Freshman class, attendants Lori Horn and Anthony Berardi accepted their positions as attendants at Homecoming.

ROYALTY BRINGS PRESTIGE TO HOMECOMING '87

The announcement of the Homecoming royalty is an event everyone looks forward to. It is perhaps one of the only things that can get a stadium full of teenagers to be quiet.

This year's king and queen were Rusty Gibson and Tracy Rubash. Both of them were extremely excited to hear that they had been chosen.

The remaining members of the royalty were: Freshman attendants, Lori Horn and Anthony Berardi; Sophomore attendants, Sheri Woods and Vinnie Capasso; Junior attendants, John Hogebaum and Amber Upton; and Senior attendants, Heather McIntyre and Todd Chartier.

The king, Rusty Gibson, senior, is a member of the prestigious varsity football team. He is also a Thespian and performs in school plays.

Queen Tracy Rubash, also a senior, is the well known mascot, "The Bird" or "The Skyhawk". She is also a Thespian and likes to perform in the school plays. Tracy would like to be a professional mascot after she graduates. Her ultimate dream is to someday become the San Diego Chicken.

All of the royalty members have contributed something to our campus. That is the reason they were chosen by their classes to be part of royalty.

WEEKENDS GIVE STUDENTS TIME FOR FUN

Ah, weekends! From Monday morning at 7:40 until Friday afternoon at 2:10, the days seemed to drag. But at 2:11 on Friday, the time zoomed by. The weekends made it possible to face five more days of school. Weeks without weekends would be like . . . warm Coke. Madonna without Sean Penn. Disneyland without Mickey Mouse. The Cosby show without Cosby. It wouldn't be any fun.

But what to do? Less than 72 hours separated you from another long week. The objective: to have the most fun physically possible in that time.

All that desert. All that time. Sound like a party? Yeah. Every weekend. Pickup trucks hit the great expanse loaded with teens, music, and . . . soda pop.

With all this and more fun, it's a wonder you ever got up on Monday morning . . .

Freedom

Oasis Water Park was a place to "beat the heat" in the '86 summer and Arizona fall weekends.

A popular pastime on the weekend is cruising down Central Avenue and around Metro Center.

Blake Ramsey and Chrissy Marziano selected to the McDonald's All Star Band October 11 at the McDonald's on 59th and Bell are talented musicians.

Class unity is shown here as juniors and seniors pal around during lunch.

Chapter 11 brought students together on the weekends. They danced, laughed, and had a great time at the teen club!

OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND FOR EXTRA CASH, RESPONSIBILITY

Sooner or later everyone must get a job, that is unless your family is rich and happy to give you money to support yourself. Unfortunately most of us are not that lucky and must go out and get a job if we are to get some nice clothes and survive.

So off you go to get a job. Maybe in fast food like Darrin Perkins senior, "It was fun for awhile, but it got boring fast."

Or if food just isn't your bag, you could get a job at a supermarket as a bagboy or a cashier.

Of course if you're the kind of person who wants to get a real jolt out of life then you could go for a summer job as a lifeguard at a swimpark. Or try a slightly quieter profession like a receptionist at a car dealership, like Andy Dunn senior, "It's a great way to make money and it's fun."

Serving hungry movie-goers is Sean Currie, senior, in his part-time job at Bell Towers Mann Theaters.

Completing a busy day with an ice cream break becomes the ideal job for Laura Mayfield, junior, as she scoops ice cream at the Baskin Robbins on Bell Rd. and 43rd Ave.

Working for a Living

"Need a fork?" asks senior Dennis Denny as he serves snacks at his job at the Oasis on 43 and Pinnacle Peak.

What a great smile! You can just see how much LeeAnn Bellerose, senior, likes her job at Swensens on 51 Ave. and Bell road.

Anthony Garza, junior, works at the Burger King on 35 Ave. and Bell Rd. "Where you can have it your way."

SPORTS PROVIDE CHANCE FOR INDIVIDUAL EXPRESSION

Sports, athletics, feats of physical endurance.

Whatever you want to call it, we have plenty for our students.

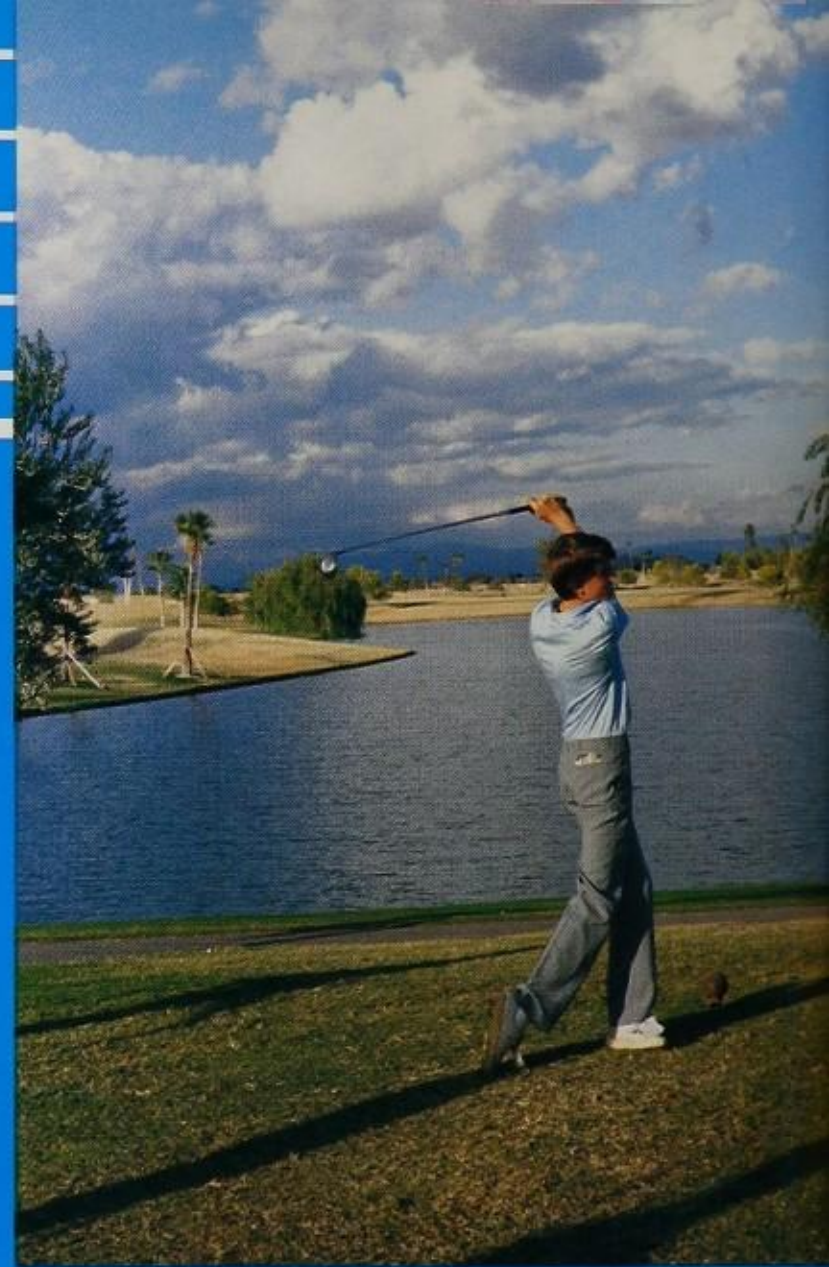

We have, of course, the ever-popular football, but we also have golf, swimming, soccer, gymnastics, volleyball, tennis, and so forth.

Competing is a thrill for students. There are ups and downs. The endless practices, the sweat and pain involved. But almost every student involved will tell you it's worth it.

It's worth it when you hear that winning score or cross the finish-line and hear the cheering of the crowd.

And it's worth it when your team wins that championship and you know in your heart that they really could not have done it without YOU!

Teeing off at a tournament held at our home course, Hillcrest, is junior Chad Vandenburg. Once again the Skyhawk golf team had an exceptional season.

Gymnastics is a popular class taken by many students on campus. Showing his strength and skill on the parallel bars is Howard Hodge, senior.

Going for a first place in the 125cc pro class, Brian Howland, senior, flies over a jump at a race held in Las Vegas.

Ready to Win

Concentrating on the start of the race freshman, Jenifer Torre must think about her tough competition from Greenway.

Showing a sigh of relief, Tim Compise, senior, comes off the field after our victorious win over Greenway 21-12.

FADS AND FASHION REFLECT TONE OF NOSTALGIA

Once again the Volkswagon bug is the most popular car on campus. This 1968 bug belongs to senior, Dan Rhoades.

Wild hair cuts and dark sunglasses are amongst many fads that students show throughout this year. Showing his participation in the latest trends is senior Marc LaRue.

The fashion statements for the 1986-87 school year showed creativity and brought back some of the Sixties flair.

Denim was being worn as skirts, jackets, overalls and yes, jeans.

Prominent fashion statements around campus this year included; spandex pants, which are skin tight pants with a metallic glimmer, stretch pants which were usually teamed up with big oversized shirt or sweater in jewel tones and darker colors.

The revival of the music further impressed us in the Sixties way of life. With the return of such bands as the Monkees, the Beatles, and the special Tom Petty, Bob Dylan revival concert, we were "Twisting and Shouting" not unlike the Sixties generation.

Deer Valley is full of trends and fashions. These four freshman girls, Brandi DeLeon, Sheli Malone, Sammi Shasteen, and Jennifer Smith discuss what is in style.

FRIENDS FILL LIFE WITH MEMORIES OF SHARING

Ah, those people you hang out with. Jocks. Mods. Metalheads. Trendies. Joe Normal. Your best friend who dyed her hair pink. The guy who borrowed your truck for three weeks. Maybe they're strange, and maybe people laugh, but they're your friends, and that's all that matters.

What would you do without them? Things would be pretty dull. Who would you go places with? Who would listen to your strange ideas and weird dreams? And could you even stand high school at all if you didn't have friends to gripe about it with?

And that's what it's all about. Learning, loving, living. Your own unique group, that you'll remember long after you've parted.

Skyhawk friendship really shines through with junior Cheri Magsam, Jackie Sollish, Jodie Welsh, Michelle Samplin, and senior Cori Darnell.

Fine Times!

Pow! During first lunch seniors Shelly Brown and Mark Fulayton pretend to have a battle of strength.

Flag Corps members Rainy Carstens, junior, Lisa Calden, senior, Shalene Crockett, senior, and Michelle Dorffi, sophomore prepare for a 6 a.m. practice.

Girls and guys also shared some of the best of friendships on campus.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS ENJOY VARIETY OF CAMPUS OFFERINGS

Things are very different between the United States and other countries.

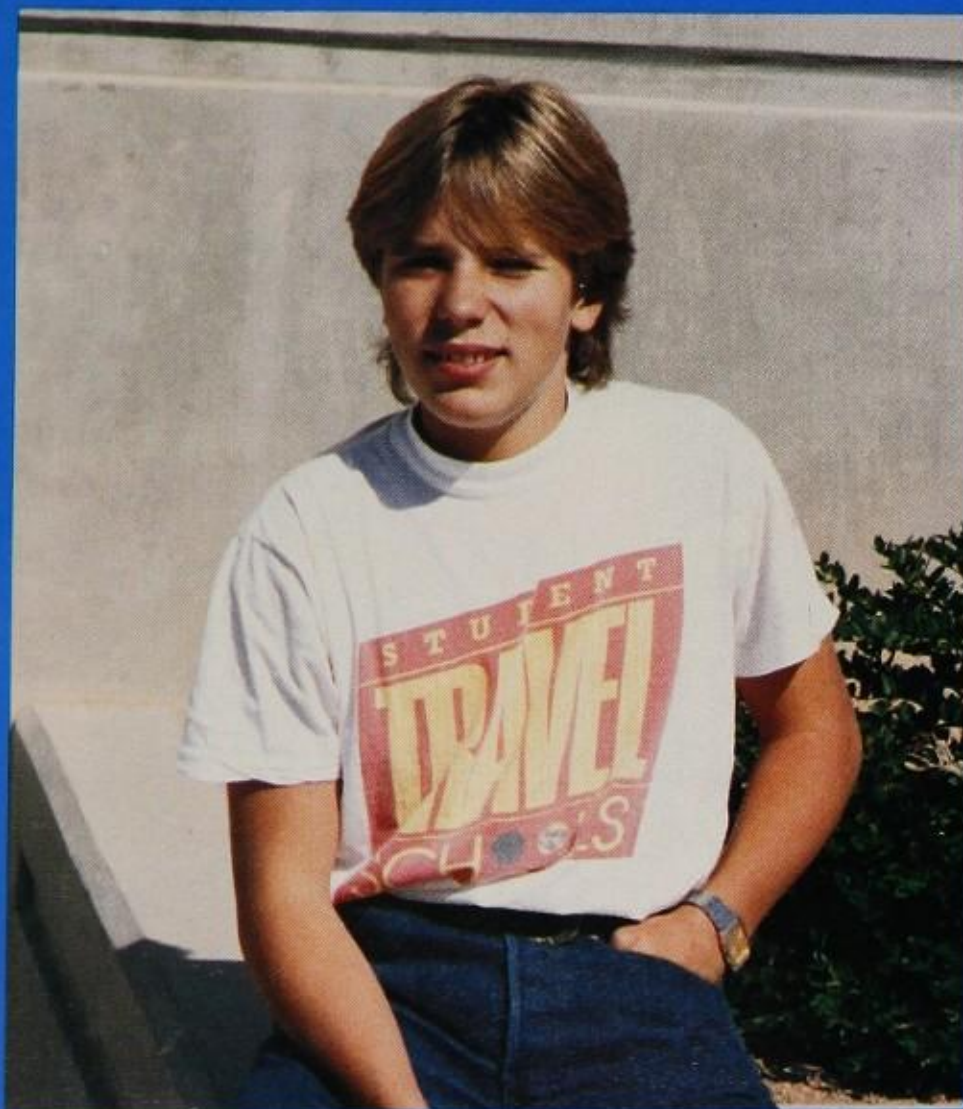

Martin Berneburg, a senior from Germany, said "The hardest things for me to adjust to were the longer school days and having to get up at 5:30 in the morning."

Most exchange students refer to D.V.H.S. as being easier than the schools in their countries. "You can't choose your electives in Germany. You only take classes that you need for your job," commented Oliver Gertz, also from Germany.

Florian Scholz, junior from Germany, appreciates playing cello and dancing ballet. Florian thinks, "The people are often very kind. Even when they don't know you, they talk to you and ask you how you are doing."

Katja Diehl, senior, is a very bright and witty person. She has a very special talent in making clothes. She makes some of the clothes she wears.

Katja enjoys the selection of classes. She went on to say, "It's a lot of fun to select classes."

Jakub Varra, junior, from Sweden sets down and absorbs the atmosphere of school life in Arizona.

Chad Vandenberg, junior, listens attentively as Oliver Gertz, Senior, foreign exchange student from Germany demonstrates his European charm.

Junior Florian Scholz and senior Katja Diehl from Germany have fun exchanging views on the American culture.

Junior Toni Brancatisano from Australia shows spirit on Hawaiian Day during an American Homecoming Week.

Senior Mark Tan from the Philippines poses in front of the world-wide logo of Coca-Cola!

BOOKS, POSTERS GIVE LOCKERS PERSONALITY

Besides a storage facility for books, the lockers at Deer Valley are used for a wide variety of purposes. They are often blamed by students when they don't have their homework. The following are some of the most common excuses: 1) My locker is jammed and I can't open it. 2) I grabbed the wrong folder out of my locker. 3) I can't find it in my locker. 4) I left it in my locker.

Lockers may also serve as messengers. Many students hang signs reading "Happy Birthday" on them. Decorating them with birthday paper and ribbons is also popular on our campus. Lockers provide free delivery of notes, too.

Lockers are also used to play practical jokes, especially on freshman. Students turn locks around backwards which makes it close to impossible to open without looking like a total fool.

Individual taste is reflected inside each student's locker. The dull outside alters considerably as the door is opened and the inside is revealed.

Melissa Westney and Sheryl Fuson were assigned a bottom locker. That's one of the "privileges" of being a freshman!

Holding everything together junior Chris Santos, stands with a look of disbelief as he tries to push his books back into his locker. Lockers can collect a lot of strange items during the course of the school year.

Junior Lisa Starr seems to believe in an interesting law of lockers: "Lockers must expand to contain all books, materials and miscellaneous items."

LOCKERS

Look at This! 31

Deer Valley students, Steve Bennett, Scott Henriksen, Ed Eisner, and Carolyn Overman are eligible to compete for over 21 million dollars in scholarships.

Look at This!

ACADEMICS

Finding it hard to stay awake during early bird, Tiffany Wick, senior, prepares for a test in government.

Trying to increase her sixth hour English 7-8 class's vocabulary is Mrs. Cathy Heimann, honors teachers.

You had your complaints back then. Too many guards. Too much homework. Too little sleep. But you never complained that there were not enough classes to take. There was something for everyone. From jazz band, metals class, keyboarding, and sewing to photography, drama, band and autos to speech, R.O.T.C., painting and word processing to electronics, Spanish, German, French and astronomy to agriculture, ceramics, computers, dance and journalism. No matter what you did, there was a way to do it.

So maybe you learned a foreign language, in order to broaden your horizons, or joined R.O.T.C., so that you could get into the armed forces. No matter what you took, each of you learned something and put it to good use.

When you walk out of your office knowing you closed that new contract with that important executive from another country, or when your kids thank you for raising their allowance another hundred dollars with the money you made with that new program that you wrote, remember where you first learned those skills and proudly thank Deer Valley, your school.

A GLANCE AT MATHEMATICAL INTRICACIES

When you think of math courses available at Deer Valley, you probably think of such courses as algebra, consumer math, or even geometry. But why not take . . . ADVANCED PLACEMENT CALCULUS!

The class is taught by Mr. Bob Sisson and according to him, it is a very intellectually challenging class. "It's more difficult than other math classes and it requires more time and thought." Mr. Sisson stated. Mr. Sisson has been teaching this class for two years at Deer Valley. To be ready for this class, he said that it requires quite a bit of math in earlier years of high school.

Mr. Sisson said that even though the class is hard, it is also fun. The requirements for the class are Algebra 1-2 and Algebra 3-4, plus Pre-Calculus. This year's class has seventeen students enrolled.

So if you are ready for a challenge, then go out and sign up for the class. C-C-Catch the wave, Advanced Placement Calculus.

Steve Bennett, senior, decides to catch a few winks after filling his mind with calculus facts.

Mr. Robert Sisson teaches his AP Calculus class some of the finer points of mathematical reasoning.

Jason Mitchener, junior, shares time on a computer with two other students.

Gary Cores, senior, ponders over a complex problem that the computer has posed.

Mr. Barnes' astronomy class listens attentively to timely information.

Bev Muse, junior, rinses out a test tube after taking part in a chemistry experiment.

Kristi Frueh, sophomore, appears to be overwhelmed by biological mysteries.

Theresa Gilboy and Terry Nicklas, both juniors, are lab partners in an experiment.

Mrs. Jagernauth, biology teacher, explains facts of anatomy.

Moe and Jack, sans Manny, are a creation of Mrs. Showers creative anatomy class.

LOOKING AT THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

What is science? According to the dictionary, science is "a classification of knowledge concerning some subject." In simpler terms, science is a conglomeration of subjects like chemistry, biology, astronomy, and anatomy, to name a few. Deer Valley offers a wide variety of science classes, including the ones mentioned above.

Last year, Deer Valley held its first science fair, with about 450 participants. Prizes were awarded in three categories: life science, physical science, and medical arts. All entries were awarded a certificate of participation.

"The Deer Valley Science Fair was one of the biggest in the state and we will exceed the efforts of last year when we host the 1987 science fair this spring. Students are encouraged to enter the science fair held at ASU.", commented science teacher, Mrs. Jan Showers.

ZOOMING IN ON THE SPECIAL SERVICES PROGRAM

The purpose of the special services classes is to assist students develop skills they need to be successful in classes. That is Mrs. Murnane's estimation of the special services program. Some classes in this area include math, science, reading, English, and social studies, along with vocationally geared classes and tutorial programs which help students survive in regular classes.

Mrs. Murnane also commented,

"... provides support and smaller classes ..."

"The instruction is broken down into smaller portions to make it easier to understand." The special services also provides support and smaller classes which help with individualization.

"The students are able to take on information needed to boost their skills." Mrs. Murnane said. "The teachers don't go on until each student understands the present lesson. These classes are very beneficial to the students and the school."

Mr. Clyde Tubick instructs his class about the Shakespearean play, MACBETH.

Mr. Larry Tuscano pauses in his lecture to his math class.

Kelli Winters, sophomore, appears to appreciate what she is learning in her math class.

Danny Kamrar, junior, works and studies in American History.

Mr. Allen, social studies teacher, lectures to his history class about the Civil War.

Jennifer Hooks, junior, ponders over the complex facts that Mr. Allen has presented.

Oliver Gertz and Eric Strait, both seniors, take notes for an extremely important test.

Mike Schwoerer, junior, is engrossed in reading about America's colorful history.

SOCIAL STUDIES CONTINUES ESSENTIAL ROLE

This year's social studies department headed by Mrs. Kathy Hedges, encouraged such interesting and worthwhile classes as sociology, Street Law, Global Studies, American History, Government and World War Two/the Sixties.

"Only 1 in 3 people in the world live in Freedom. Social Studies classes give students an understanding of what freedom is, the struggles that we, as a nation have endured to preserve our freedoms; and what we just do to continue. We begin a celebration this year of the Bicentennial of our Constitution, so these thoughts have a particular relevance to students today." Mrs. Hedges commented.

"...give students an understanding of what freedom is..."

Social Studies continues to be essential to a complete student education. It brings the world of the past and present into focus giving student the knowledge needed to help shape the future.

Mrs. Hedges is also involved in the Mock Trial program. Mrs. Hedges and the Mock trial Members were asked to star in a training film for the program.

CONCENTRATING ON THE NEED FOR READING

Reading can open the door to a different world for many people. It can entertain and enlighten the reader. Without reading it would be almost impossible to communicate and quite frustrating to live.

The reading courses here focus mainly on individual reading skills. There were approximately 450-500 students in all of the classes. The goal was to complete reading requirements for graduation.

"... can open the door to a different world ..."

"We saw a lot of improvement," said Mr. Rick Amanati, reading teacher and department head. The other reading teachers included Mrs. Barbara Daggett, Mrs. Betsy Morse, and Mrs. Diane Feist.

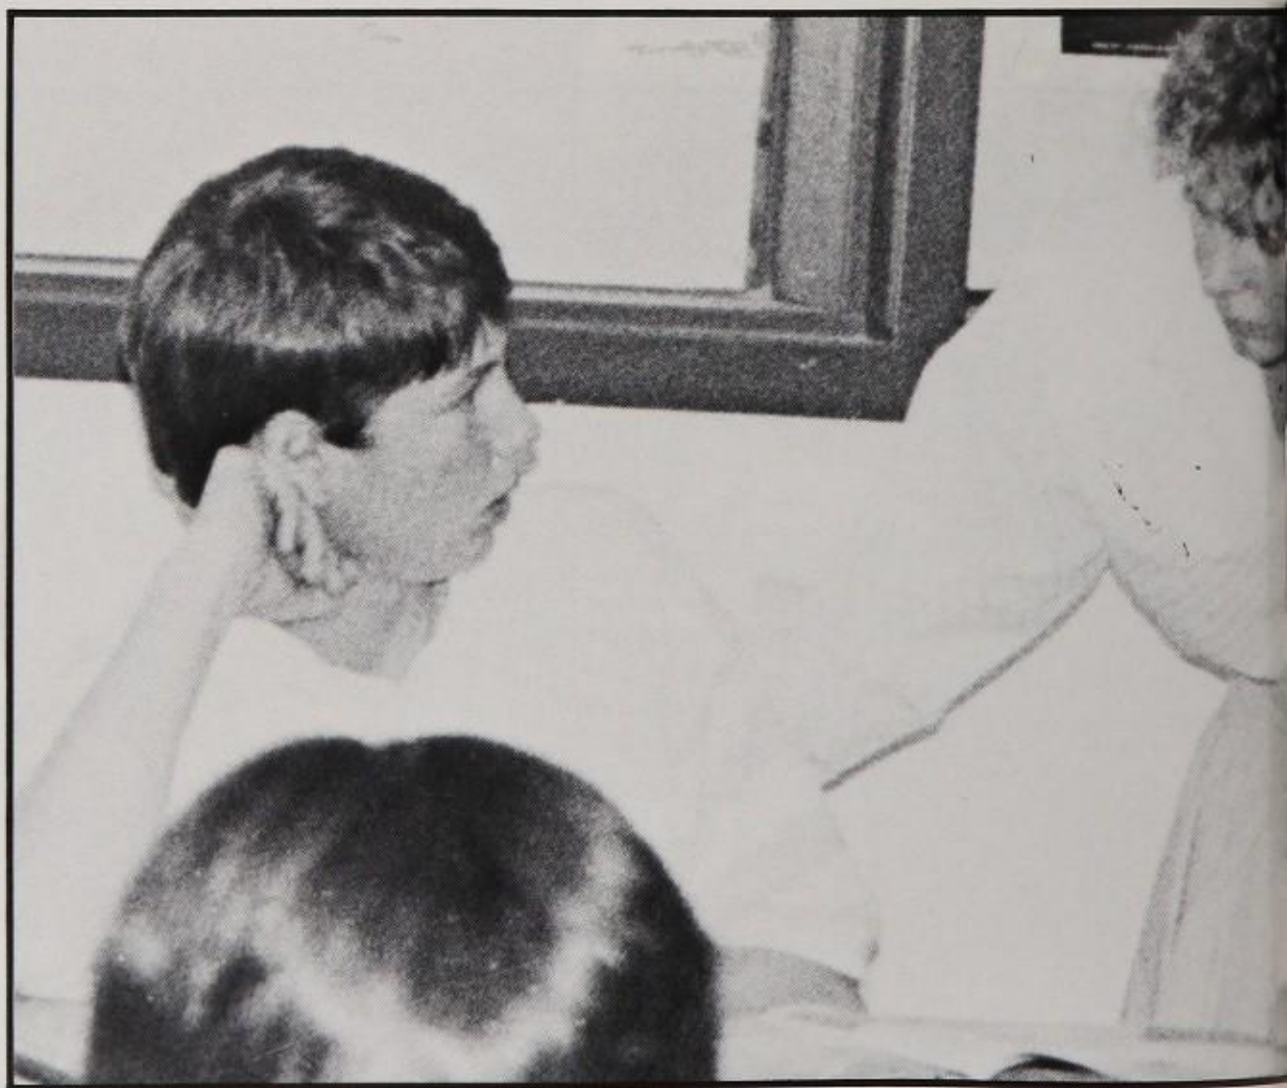

There is a tutoring program in which reading students are sent to elementary schools to work with the younger kids. The tutors worked on all subjects. They also worked on a one on one basis with each student.

"I enjoy teaching the reading students. It is a challenge," commented Mrs. Diane Feist.

Sara Stroup, sophomore, takes a test in her reading class.

Kim Schalow, sophomore, is helped by a friend as she reads an article to improve her reading proficiency.

Ed Eisner, senior, appears to be engrossed in deep thought as Mrs. Joanne Talarico lectures.

Ms. Laura Fore, teaching her English 3-4 class, enjoys talking about literature.

ENGLISH IS FOUND EVERYWHERE

It's everywhere. On the streets, on TV, on the radio, in books. It's the latest thing, and yet it's been around longer than, well, longer than even the Monkees. In fact, the state of California made it an official state language. No joke. It's the grand and glorious English language. And believe it or not, it was spoken all throughout 1986-87. Most of your teachers knew only a few phrases,

"It's everywhere. On the streets, on TV, on the radio, in books..."

though, such as, "That's your tenth tardy," or "I'm calling your parents. You're failing!!"

And in English classes, you learned to use the language better than ever. In the underclass-level courses, such as English 1-2 and 3-4, grammar skills were emphasized. In upperclass courses, the history of literature was discussed.

VIEWING THE CULTURE OF LANGUAGES

Taking a foreign language is beneficial to the student in many ways. For instance, colleges sometimes require two years of a foreign language for entrance. "It opens your eyes to another culture and makes you look at your own life in a different way. It is also practical in careers.", explained Mrs. Salahub, French teacher.

"... opens your eyes to another culture ... practical in careers ..."

Foreign language classes can be fun as well as educational. In Miss Truett's Spanish classes, the students play games, sing, and do skits.

Why do people study foreign languages? There are various reasons. "I think you need French more than any other language.", exclaimed Shine Anthony, senior. Then there are the practical reasons. "There are so many Hispanic people in the Phoenix area that I think it is important to learn Spanish as a second language.", said Karen Bennett, sophomore.

Mrs. Jones, Spanish teacher, prepares to begin her class despite the distractions.

Robert Durkin, freshman, concentrates on an assignment in his German 1-2 class.

Bill Nelson, senior, struts his stuff in his Advanced Dance class.

Manuel Ortiz, junior, sketches a drawing as part of his Home and Design class.

Cathy Hintze, senior, was the nominee for drama: she excelled in her Advanced Performing Theater class.

Hilary Weinberg, senior, raises her hand in response to a question.

Laura Osman, senior, reads a book pertaining to home economics.

Steve Bennett, senior, demonstrates his proficiency in biology by taking care of a prickly pear cactus.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Here at Deer Valley, there will always be outstanding students, students who are examples of academic excellence. This year was no exception.

Steve Bennett, senior, excelled in AP Biology, and was accepted at Amherst College in Massachusetts.

Senior Cathy Hintze displayed her proficiency in Advanced Performing Theater and Dance 1-2, indicative of her enjoyment of dancing, music, and drama.

Bill Nelson, senior, was enrolled in Advanced Performing Theater and Advanced Dance. In just two years, he worked his way up into advanced-level classes, which aided in his scholarship to Pepperdine.

Junior Manuel Ortiz found Design and Home helpful, due to the amount of job openings.

Laura Osman, senior, took H.E.R.O. and plans to teach kindergarten.

Senior Hilary Weinberg, AP Government student, hopes someday to be the U.S. Attorney General.

FOCUSING ON THE TALENT OF PERFORMING ARTS

The performing arts department, which is under Mr. Joe Washburn's jurisdiction, encompasses many different classes, ranging from choir to drama to dance to art. Students from all backgrounds on campus are given the chance to use all areas of the performing arts as a means to express their individuality.

One of this year's main highlights was the Christmas Choir Concert, featuring many different levels of choir groups. Senior Mary Smith sang one of the best songs in the production: "Nuttin' for Christmas", complete with a teddy bear.

"... a means to express individuality ..."

"You Can't Take It With You" was this year's fall play and, as always, D.V.'s cast gave a fine showing.

In preparation for a recital, Deer Valley's jazz band practices a few tunes.

Lisa Irwin, senior, receives some kindly instruction from Mr. Dickson, band teacher.

Jennifer Shannon, junior, takes part in the Christmas concert, along with other dancers.

Tracey Bodine, junior, displays skill in drawing while in Mrs. Becky Stephens' Design Fundamentals class.

Deer Valley's choir sings in an exemplary manner while performing in the gymnasium.

Making their own gingerbread house is one of the interesting creations learned in Ms. Ayers' foods classes.

Learning a new sewing skill, stitching clothes, are freshmen Dawn Belliham and Michelle Frey.

"A stitch in time . . .", finds sophomore Cheri Curtis concentrating on her sewing project in clothing.

Explaining to a student how to prepare for future motherhood is Mrs. Beth Thul during the Child Development class.

Andy Dunn, senior, learns how to bake cookies in his foods class. Students can also learn life survival skills such as planning menus for nutritious meals.

HOME ECONOMICS PROVIDES GUIDE POST TO DOMESTIC LIVING

The home economics department, headed by Ms. Katherine Chandler, provides students with opportunities to learn skills that are practical for everyday living. Students learn how to cook properly by taking any or all of the four levels of cooking classes. Such skills as caring for and making clothes (Fashion Plus), caring for children (Child Development), and life as a single (Single Survival) are taught. The department also provides students with information and experience for the world of work through classes like Career Goals and Home Economics Related Occupations (H.E.R.O.).

In 1986-87, Ms. Beth Thul's 4th, 5th, and 6th-hour classes continued the tradition of the Flour Sack Baby project.

“Through this simulation, students learn the responsibilities and time that is needed to care for a tiny infant,” said Mrs. Thul.

BUSINESS CONCEPTS WILL BE UTILIZED FOR LIFE

The business department at Deer Valley is not just "another department." The classes that fall into the business category teach important skills. Classes in this department include accounting, typing, or working in the school store.

Mr. Doug Porter, marketing and free enterprise teacher, went on to explain, "The skills and concepts we teach are ones that will be utilized for life by virtually every student, regardless of his or her chosen field."

"... business is such a dynamic and diverse field."

Students may not think business classes are truly enjoyable, but what about the teachers? Can teaching a business class be enjoyable? According to Mr. Mark Palombo, it can. "Yes, it can, because business is such a dynamic and diverse field," said Mr. Palombo.

So be assured that no matter what business course you take, it will be beneficial in later life.

Concentrating on his timed drills in Typing 1, Noah Perry, freshman, tries to improve his typing speed.

Accountants must be accurate! This is shown by Leslie Crossman, Rocco Gianforte, and Debbie Haddon.

Mrs. Melba Bennett prepares students for the business field by teaching typing.

Senior Andy Bennington works on his 30-way radio to get in touch with galaxies far, far away.

Screen-printing with great care and mathematical exactness is Eric Goodwin, junior.

Perry Siegel, senior, prepares to place wood in a vice during the fun and interesting Woods class.

Sophomores, Martha Lind, and Alishia Desanti, further their skills in Graphic Arts.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) involves students in the areas of their future career choices.

COURSES LAY FOUNDATION FOR VOCATIONAL TRADES

As a rule, high school focuses primarily on the world of academia. If you've taken classes like math or science, you know what that means. However, most every student wants to get a job. That's where Deer Valley's vocational department comes into play. According to Mr. Loyd Myers, the education received is "not only informative but also preparation for occupations and life in general.

"...preparations for occupations and life..."

Deer Valley's vocational division is also widely recognized for the education it offers. Students from Barry Goldwater High School and the Peoria school district attend classes in the Voc-Ed building.

The department also concerns itself with expansion. Next year, an auto body shop and the completion of a land lab are expected. The vocational department will become a separate learning facility in hopes of concentrating solely on vocational interests.

OPPORTUNITIES EXCEL IN THE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AREA

Having the chance to start a career while in high school is a very valuable asset.

The Medical Arts 1-2 is where it all starts. It's this class that teaches the anatomy and physiology of the human body.

The class goes into first aid and CPR, after learning the basics of the body.

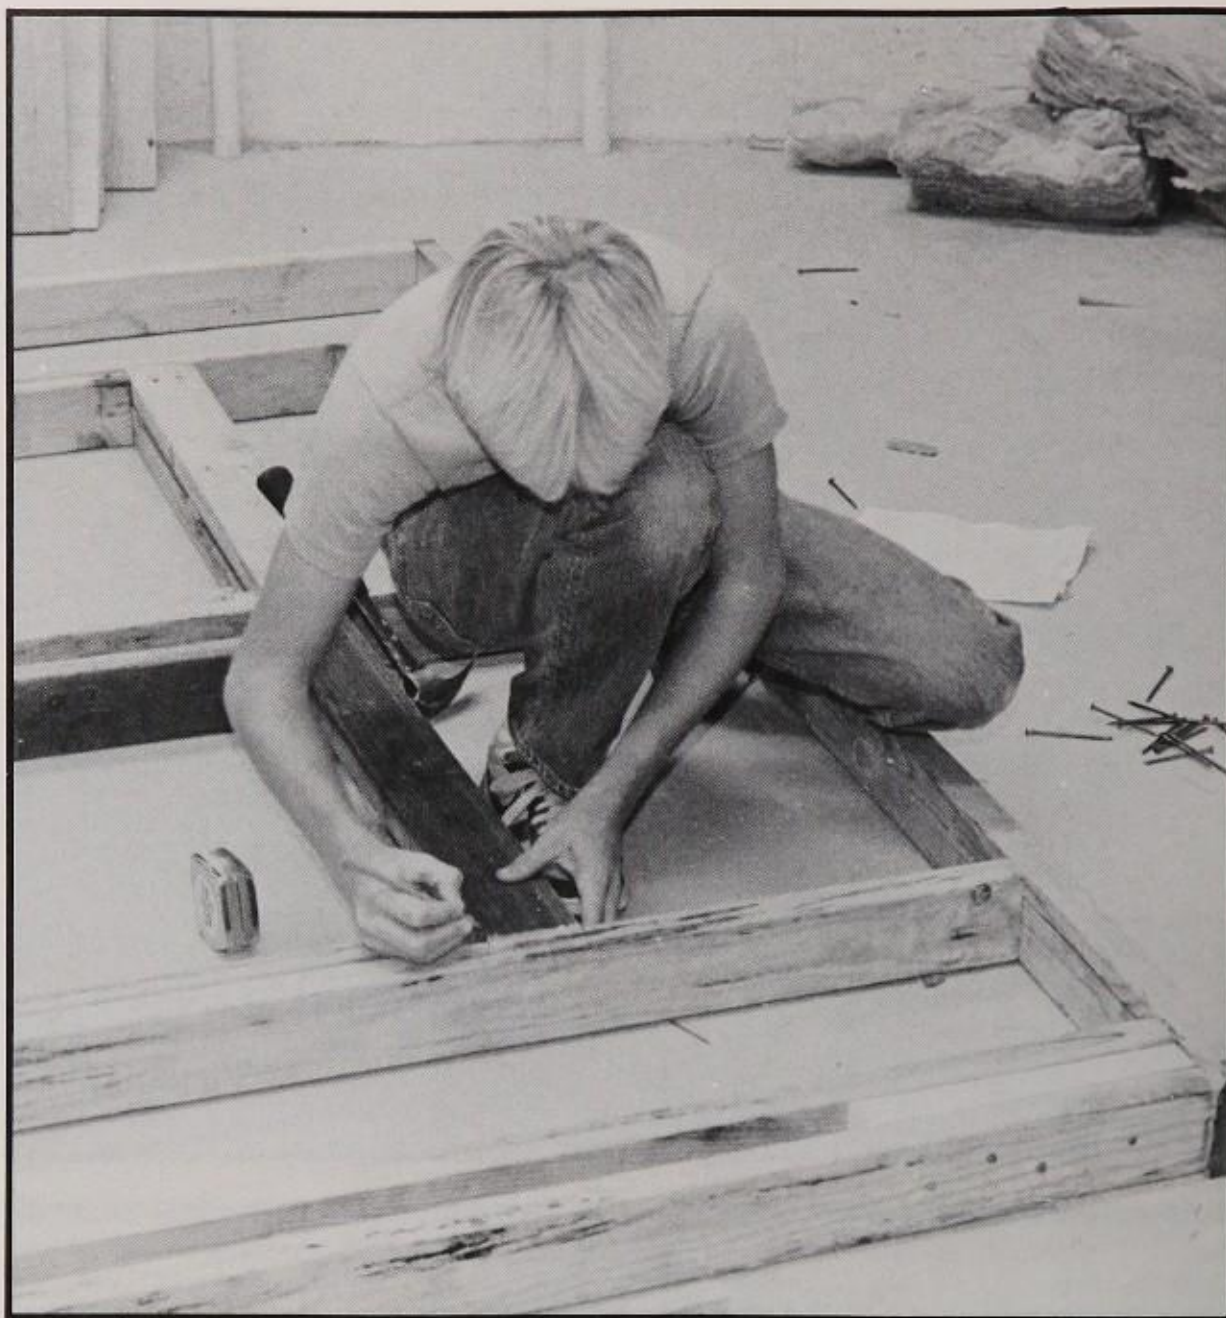

Ms. Sue Edwards, RN, commented, "These classes give them the opportunity to be exposed to a variety of different areas. It gives them the opportunity to see what the academics are like in these different areas."

"...the opportunity to be exposed to a variety of different areas..."

After Medical Arts 1-2, it is your choice to go on to 3-4. The 3-4 classes specialize in developing various areas in the Medical Arts. There are 11 different curriculae that students can take. For example, you could start training for dental assistant, physical therapy aide, nurses' assistant, food service, medical back office and a lab assistant.

The class is based completely on the curriculum you choose. If, for example, you thought the dental assistant career sounded like you, that's what your focal point will be that year.

Mike Kenike precisely measures the frame to his project in Vocational Carpentry.

In graphic arts, Dave Borrow puts a plate in the press to be printed.

J.R.O.T.C. DEMONSTRATES LIFE IN THE MILITARY FIELD

The Deer Valley 802nd unit of J.R.O.T.C. is well under way with a promising class of 118 cadets. J.R.O.T.C. is a class that teaches students about aerospace, leadership, and management qualities. The class is split into two parts, with Lt. Col. William Watson teaching Aerospace Tuesday through Thursday and Master Sgt. Ray Valdez teaching leadership and management qualities on Mondays and Fridays.

"... military life ... teaches them to become better informed citizens ..."

Last year the 802nd won the honor unit. This means that out of all the other units in Arizona, the 802nd was chosen as the best.

J.R.O.T.C. also shows cadets what life is like in the military field. Master Sgt. Valdez said: "It informs cadets about military life in general and teaches them to become better informed citizens."

Lt. Col. Watson commented that "cadets entering enlisted service in the Air Force, Army, or Navy, get two pay grades higher than other enlistees."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION COACHES STUDENTS TO LEARN RULES OF THE GAME

Some classes in high school improve your mind but P.E. (Physical Education) improves both mental and physical skills.

Students engage in sports such as football, baseball, basketball, racquetball, and soccer. They also do push-ups, the 50 yard dash, pull-ups, and warm up exercises to prepare them for the other sports.

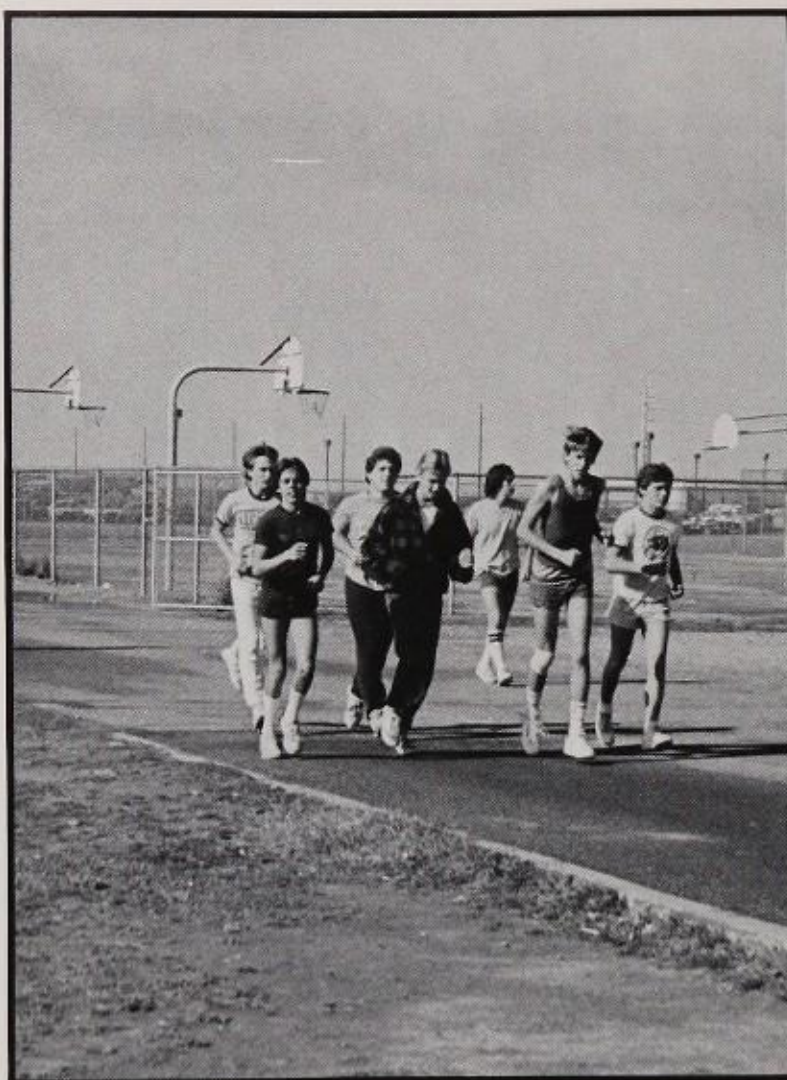

Mentally, students learn sportsmanship qualities and they also learn the rules of the game, sportsman-like conduct, and cooperation which they will need later in life.

"... P.E. improves both mental and physical skills..."

Aerobics for the first time saw boys take part in the class. Lifetime sports instructs students on important things they will need in the future. Health is also a class that is important to our physical well being. Health teaches students about the importance of nutrition and safety.

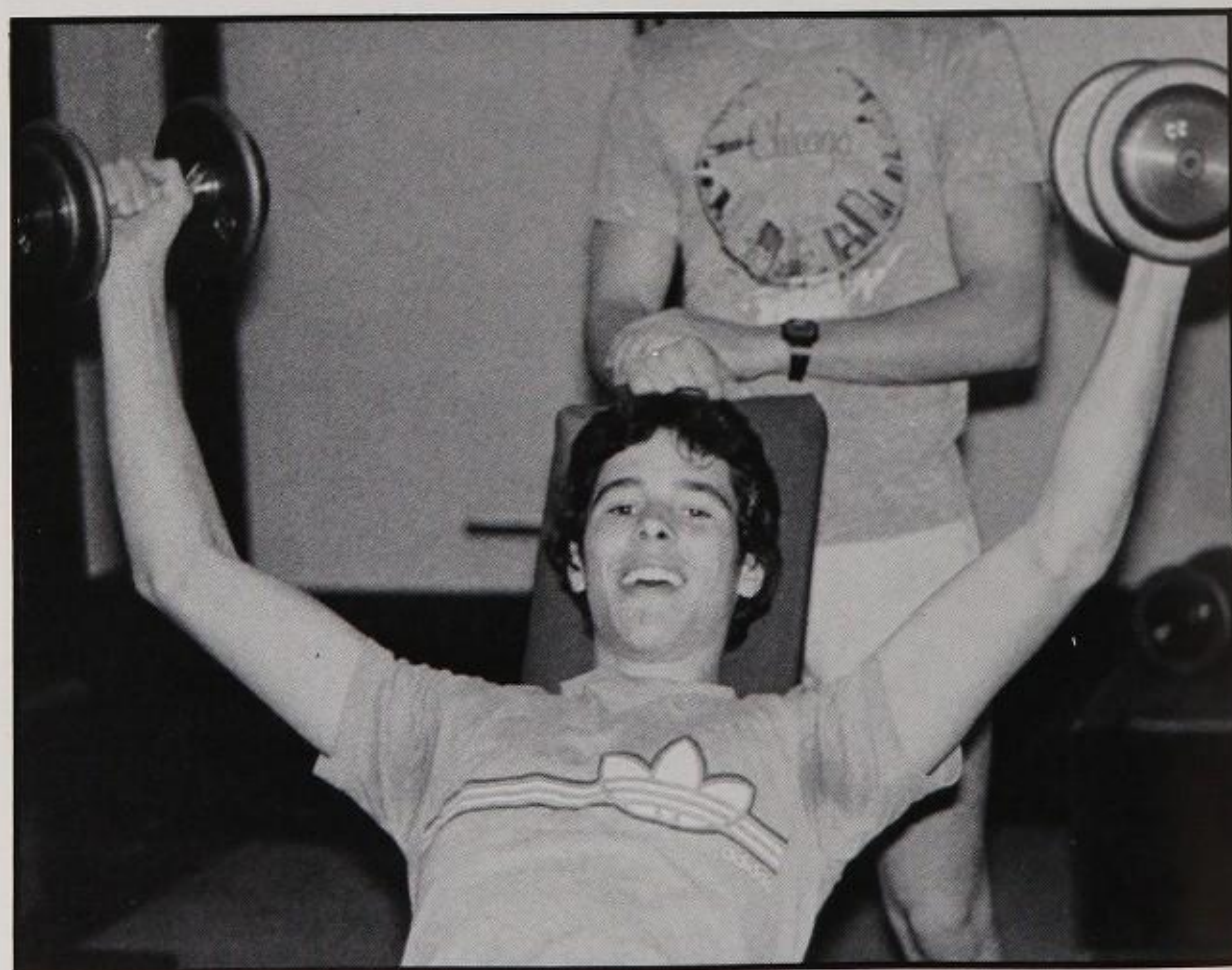

There were so many classes that you wanted to take and so little time. But while you were taking these classes remember that the world belongs to the strong.

Running laps has always been, and will always be one of the most dreaded activities during P.E.

Fourth period boys Lifetime Sports engage in a soft game of football.

Jerry Davis, sophomore, pulls up 140 pounds while Mike Bonilla, senior, looks on.

To the bewilderment of his teammates, freshman Alex Beaver dribbles the soccer ball down field during P.E.

Deer Valley is privilege to provide facilities for the endangered red-tailed hawk.

Dawn begins to shed subtle lighting on the portable classrooms of Deer Valley.

Here's a common sight — a hot air balloon gliding over Deer Valley's campus.

DEER VALLEY EXCELS IN CAMPUS BEAUTY

No doubt there are many memorable things that this year's faculty and student body will treasure forever.

One of these things should be Deer Valley's beautiful campus. Deer Valley's campus is full of a variety of plant life. In fact, D.V. is famous for its accurate portrayal of certain regions of Arizona and the plant life that is found there.

No one should take this "gift" for granted. Deer Valley is one of the few high schools that have such an elaborate and detailed campus. For instance, where else can a person find a pond full of pup fish, alongside a rock with streaming cascades of water flowing down the sides? Certainly not at many high schools.

"... a campus to have pride in... worthy of care and consideration..."

In short, your campus makes Deer Valley unique and sets it apart from all others. This is a campus to have pride in and a campus worthy of care and consideration.

Retreat 'calls to community'

This year's second annual All-Star Retreat took place in Prescott Az., October 17-19. Approximately 150 students participated in this retreat.

All through the retreat, students went to different meetings and activities, sometimes all together, and sometimes in smaller groups.

After dinner Friday night, they had a "call to community" meeting. At this meeting they met the trainers, set "norms", and learned "non-negotiables".

Saturday morning the students went to a "flat earth, round earth" meeting which is when a person knows he is doing something wrong and does it anyway.

Saturday afternoon, the students had team time. Each group had 10 minutes to make up a 45-second commercial on any topic.

Sunday, the students attended two last workshops, received their lunches, and came back to Deer Valley.

All in all, the second annual A-Team Retreat was a big success with Deer Valley students.

Karen Mennino, sophomore, performs on the balance beam. Doing this requires a great deal of concentration.

Gymnastics is a challenge

There are about 20 members in the gymnastics club. They practice in class every day in the east balcony of the gymnasium. Mrs. Metzger says that she sponsors the gymnastics club because she teaches it and that makes it easier.

During the year, they hold fundraisers in order to raise money for their meet in May. This year, they are planning to have a cartwheel-a-thon in February and a car wash in April.

Throughout the school year, the gymnastics club is involved in a variety of activities. Besides their meet in May, they give exhibitions during the assemblies. They also attend some of A.S.U.'s meets.

The girls practice many advanced skills to get ready for their meets. They practice back tucks in their floor work and back handsprings on the beam. They also work on their originality. Mrs. Metzger also said that due to liability insurance, they are no longer able to vault.

The gymnastics club motto, Gymnastics as a Challenge, is posted on their bulletin board. Mrs. Metzger commented, "I try and make it as much as a challenge for the girls as I can."

Drama clubs change for the better

The drama/thespian club had a major accomplishment in '86-'87; for the first time, three state thespian officers were from DV- Bill Nelson, state president; Brian Mills, vice-president; and Kim Andrews, secretary.

There were also major changes. A theater pep club was formed, in order to publicize drama events, encourage more participation by the student body, and generally bring a greater awareness of theatre arts to the campus and community.

Also, due to the drop in enrollment, stagecraft was no longer offered as a class. Instead, the task of designing and constructing the complex sets that are a hallmark of Deer Valley plays was handed to a small group of "independent-study" students- senior Jason Cooper, junior Scott Campbell, and junior Warren Davis. Davis designed the set for the fall play smash "You Can't Take It With You", while Cooper was the architect for the mystery "Mouse-trap".

Together, the drama clubs brought three terrific plays to students, parents, faculty and staff alike.

Seniors Mike Sortino, Bill Nelson, Christa Allgeier, and junior Scott Campbell impersonate characters in "You Can't Take It With You".

April Morris, senior, acts as a crazy play-writing mother during the fall play "You Can't Take It With You".

Clubs encourage learning

The Model U.N. is sponsored by Mrs. Wendy Ancona, for students that are interested in current events, and the international political events of our ever-changing world.

The purpose of this unique organization was to help those students to obtain a better understanding of those events, and to help stimulate ideas to solve world problems. Also, through Model U.N. simulations, students learned the problems of individual nations, and suggested solutions for those as well.

Students from all over Arizona and Southern California joined with Deer Valley club members for a weekend in Tucson at the University of Arizona in February. A dance and banquet were a part of these festivities.

The Amaneensis Club produced the traditionally superb Quest For The Best, the school's literary magazine. Once again advised by English teacher, Mrs. Mary Luckenbill, this year's Quest featured fine photography, artwork, graphics, color, and as a ways, fine poetry and prose from both students and faculty alike.

Teamwork colors drills

The Deer Valley 802nd J.R.O.T.C. senior drill team expects an excellent year under the leadership of commander James Donaldson and assistant commander Larry Thomas. "This year with all the veteran drill members working together as a team I have confidence that the team will become among the finest Arizona has ever seen since the J.R.O.T.C. program was founded," said Donaldson. The senior drill team has twelve members and three alternates.

There is also a Junior drill team which is commanded By junior Gary Degeronimo and assisted by junior Shawn Palmer. "Deer Valley's new junior drill team is sure to make a smashing debut this year. The new team is full of good sportsmanship and team work." Degeronimo said of the team. The junior drill team is made up of 24 members. The 802nd Color Guard is back as strong as ever. The Color guard has performed at dining outs (formal dinners), football, basketball and soccer games. It has also performed at parades and junior and High school graduations. Each Color Guard is composed of 5 or 6 cadets. Four members carry flags, (American, Arizonan, Air Force, and the 802nd squadron flag). There are also two members that carry rifles. The Color Guard commanders are Andrew Hutchinson for the male Color Guard and Ginger Fuson for the female.

Band sets new records

The DVHS Skyhawk Marching Band recently completed the most successful and award-laden season in the school's history.

The honors included the band's drum majors Kim Couch, Angela Fair, and Greg Forquer and the Flag Line being selected as camp Grand Champions at the Marching Auxiliaries of America camp last August.

In October, the band participated in the University of Arizona Band Day, where they were given a rating of Superior and were also awarded the Milton B. Nunemaker Award of Distinction for their outstanding musical performance. Then the band performed at the Arizona State University Band Day in Tempe. For their performance, they were awarded a perfect Superior rating from each of the five adjudicators in attendance.

Band director Ron Dickson commented "Most recently, the marching Skyhawks participated in the State Marching band festival in Mesa, where, in addition to once again receiving a Superior rating, they were awarded special caption awards in every area possible, including: Outstanding Musical Performance, Outstanding Marching Performance, Outstanding Percussion Performance, Outstanding Flag Line Performance and Outstanding Drum Major Performance."

Next the band goes to concerts and performances featuring Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, and Jazz Band, including participation in regional and state concert and jazz festivals.

Creative arts prosper

A devoted group of individuals known as Art Club keeps art a serious business. The Art Club directors are Ms. Billie Jo Lobely and Ms. Becky Stephens, art teachers.

"Art Club has a tough schedule this year," says Ms. Lobely, "We have a lot of work and very little time."

"This year we plan to take the members to a gallery, this way the members have a chance to see greater artists and how they can be in years to come," stated Ms.

Lobely. She also says the members are students in her and Ms. Stephens classes. The students learn how to use charcoal, pencil, ink, watercolor, and pastels. The members are really devoted to art.

"This year so far we've made wreaths at Christmas for faculty and we had fun doing it," said Lori Edwards, vice-president of the club. "We have a great year ahead of us and hopefully most of it will be fun," says Ms. Stephens.

Freshman, Kim Hastings, reviews her notes with friends in German class. Many German students participated in the club to raise money for special events.

Language clubs give students opportunities to learn more about foreign cultures

The foreign language clubs are designed to give students an opportunity to learn more about the cultures of the French, Spanish, and German people. They also hold fundraisers and participate in Foreign Language Week.

The German Club is made up of about 15 to 20 members. They learn about the German culture and they also were taught how to German folk dance.

The French Club consists of about 12 members. They learn about the French people and their lifestyles. Next year the French Club hopes to be bigger and more active.

There are about 33 members in the Spanish Club. One of their main activities this year was their annual food drive in which the food was donated to an orphanage in Mexico. They also adopted a needy family for Christmas and spent 500 dollars to help fix their home and buy clothes and toys. They do many many other things including a trip to Guadalupe and participating in the Cinco de Mayo festivities.

Mrs. Jones explained, "Our officers work very hard and members find a lot of satisfaction in doing charitable things for others. We have fun with every activity."

Yearbook adds color, pages, pizzazz

Under the leadership of seniors Holly Dickinson, editor-in-chief, and Danny Rhoades, assistant editor, the staff of 33 began planning the 1987 Soaring in the spring of 1986. Full-scale production began in early September. Thousands of pictures were shot, processed and printed, hundreds of pages of copy were written, countless hours were spent on layout and design, large amounts of pizza were eaten, and 12 hour days became the norm in order to produce the book you are now reading.

"The whole staff contributed in the long hours spent during and after school in the production of the 1987 Soaring. I will cherish so many memories about this year and our 'family,'" commented Holly.

"We had a young staff but everyone pulled through to carry on the tradition of excellence," added Dan.

Results of last year's efforts paid off for Soaring '86. At the Arizona Interscholastic Press Association (AIPA) Convention on November 4, last year's annual won the state award for the "best use of color in the opening section." The book also won a second place rating in the nation from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Junior, Tammy Stanton, looks up in exhaustion as she draws one of her many layouts for the 87' yearbook.

Flight receives CSPA first place

They're amazing. They're remarkable. They're the staff of the award-winning school newspaper, the Skyhawk Flight.

And whether it was their tradition of winning first place rating by the National Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association or their long standing tradition of carrying away awards at state and national conventions, the Flight was on top of things again.

"We had an excellent staff this year," said Mike Sortino, editor-in-chief. "I feel like we made a lot of positive changes. The general 'look' of the paper was refined and brought into the 80's, and we tried to write more interesting, student-related stories. I feel that we succeeded."

Mike explained that the entire staff was outstanding. "We tried to work as a team to put out the Flight and not have 'star' players who carried the whole work load. The professionalism and dedication of the staff made me proud."

"Without the support and dedication of our adviser, Ms. Diane Houpt, we would never have had the great year we did," concluded Mike.

Student government creates activities, memories

What would Deer Valley be like without student government? It would be a barren wasteland, a giant desert, dead trees, weeds, and dust blowing in the wind, nothing! Well, maybe not that bad, but without it we'd lose a lot of traditions, a lot of activities, and probably a lot of potential memories.

"Student government is the governing body of Deer Valley. The administration/staff often consults us on issues and decisions. We try to make Deer Valley as pleasant and as memorable as possible. Of course we are the coordinators of many "fun" activities, but we also try to be involved with as many politically orientated issues on campus," said Student Body President Chris Kieselbach.

There are so many activities and functions on campus that student government sponsors. They also coordinate the activities and fundraisers of the numerous clubs on campus. Without that there would be chaos. It's also an important link between the students and the administration.

Want to get into student government? It's not easy. Kieselbach said, "We have informational workshops and usually a mandatory workshop. A petition must be correctly filled out. You must have a 3.0 grade point average, also no failures and a good student in standing with no suspensions. If you're running for student body president or vice president you need student council and government experience.

"Our most memorable activity of the year is, of course, homecoming. We spent the most time, most work, and most money," Kieselbach concluded.

Junior, Clara Salvo, and junior, Carey Goebel, discuss an issue dealing with a upcoming dance sponsored by the junior class. Government students met during class and after school to deal with matters similar to this one.

Groups serve school

Key Club is a service organization fairly new to Deer Valley. There are 54 members this year.

"It has been very successful considering it is not even a year old," commented Mrs. Dannene Truett, sponsor. This year alone they participated in a canned food drive, visited two nursing homes, and helped host the international convention.

The National Honor Society consists of about 75 members. This year they had their first trivia-thon, they trick or treated for UNICEF, and donated to the Toys for Tots. Ms. Laura Fore explained that she became a sponsor because, "NHS has great kids and it is a teacher's duty to do something other than be a teacher from 7:45 to 2:15."

Miss Nelson, also a sponsor of NHS, commented, "I believe it is one of the most outstanding and motivated groups on this campus."

There are about 160 members in the Vocational Honor Society. Mrs. Gerald explained, "Its purpose is to recognize students with outstanding vocational skills." The Deer Valley chapter of VHS was the first one this side of the Mississippi and they celebrated their first graduating class last year. They are also planning to have a career day this year.

IMPACT is a national home economics club. Some of its purposes are to strengthen the function of the family, to encourage democracy through cooperative action in the home and community, and to provide opportunities for decision making and for assuming responsibility.

Some of their projects this year included making fruit baskets to take to Hawaiian Gardens, going Christmas caroling at Thunderbird Samaritan Hospital, and having a picnic at Thunderbird Park. Mrs. Thul commented, "The students who have been coming are dedicated and want to help. The students make the club."

Seniors Lisa Calden, Damian May, Ron Foss, and Perry Siegel plan activities during a NHS meeting.

Clubs Create Responsibility

Clubs help make the school year more interesting and can often help the student in finding a suitable career. The HOE, COE, FBLA, and HERO clubs are all based around careers and work beyond the high school education.

Members that participate in HOE, COE, and HERO leave campus and work part of the day for their credit.

These clubs are very beneficial. Not only do they teach the much needed experience for today's job force, but it also teaches them the responsibility of a job. Students can also find out if the job they have wanted is all of what they expected.

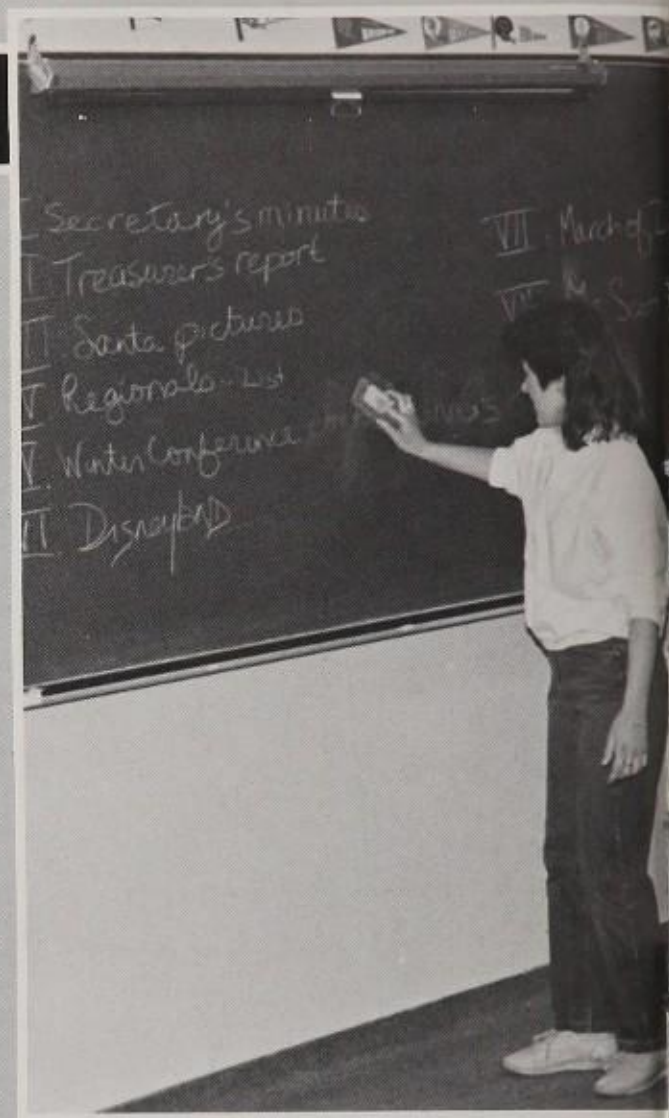

By having a minimum number of hours the students must work, they can still control a pass or fail grade, for these clubs are all classes as well.

The FBLA gives insight to teens who want to prosper in the business world of tomorrow.

In November, two officers, their advisor Jim Addabbo, and a few members went to the National Fall Leadership Conference in Anaheim, California. They participated in many workshops and learned many new ideas for the future years.

"FBLA earned a lot of money through the fund raiser with Morley candy. It was very successful and will help in paying for the many activities and competitions throughout the year," said Holly Dickinson, FBLA treasurer.

Clubs serve as training lab for future careers

School-related clubs and activities are a great asset to our school. They help clean up the school, build leadership and provide services.

One such organization is the student-operated school store. Mr. Mark Palombo is in charge of the school store and also teaches free enterprise.

To have the honor of working in the school store you must meet the following requirements: first, you have to fill out a job application, be recommended by a teacher, have a good attendance record and you have to be a mature and responsible person.

DECA is a business-related club, run by Mr. Doug Porter. The main purpose of DECA is to "expose the students to the field of marketing through competition at DECA conferences."

FFA has had a very busy year. With the sponsor Pamela Shaw on maternity leave, they needed a sponsor to replace her for a while. Mr. Mike Gillespie who taught at Duncan in Elfride, Arizona, was the choice.

FFA held their 1986 convention in Kansas City. The convention was composed of seminars and competitions.

This year JAG is doing well. They have had a car wash on the eighth of November, and they had a holiday get together on Tuesday, November 25. The event consisted of a pot-luck dinner at member Alisia Shelton's house.

Future Farmers of America. Front Row: Ed Hanks, Tim Tatro, Niki Byrket, Rochell Satterfield, Alan Rockey, Advisor: Mr. Gillespie. # Trainers deal with emergency situations

When you think of any sport, who are the people that you think of first? Of course its the coaches, the athletes and the cheerleaders. But there is another group who deserves just as much credit as those just mentioned. This group is the athletic trainers.

The trainers take care of the athletes by means of first aid, CPR, rehabilitation and evaluation of injuries.

All of the trainers are volunteers. They put in thirty to forty hours a week. Head trainer Rob Archer commented "Athletic training is a very important job consisting of a knowledge dealing with emergency situations, rehabilitation of athletic injuries, and prevention of injuries. It is a very time consuming job but well worth the trouble. The trainers deal with a special type of person, The Athlete."

To be a trainer you have to have a 3.00 grade point average and be certified in first aid and CPR.

Pep squad members create enthusiasm at our assemblies throughout the year.

Pep Squad increases school spirit, pride

The Pep Squad is a big part of Deer Valley. Without their many screams and constant yelling, the games wouldn't be the same.

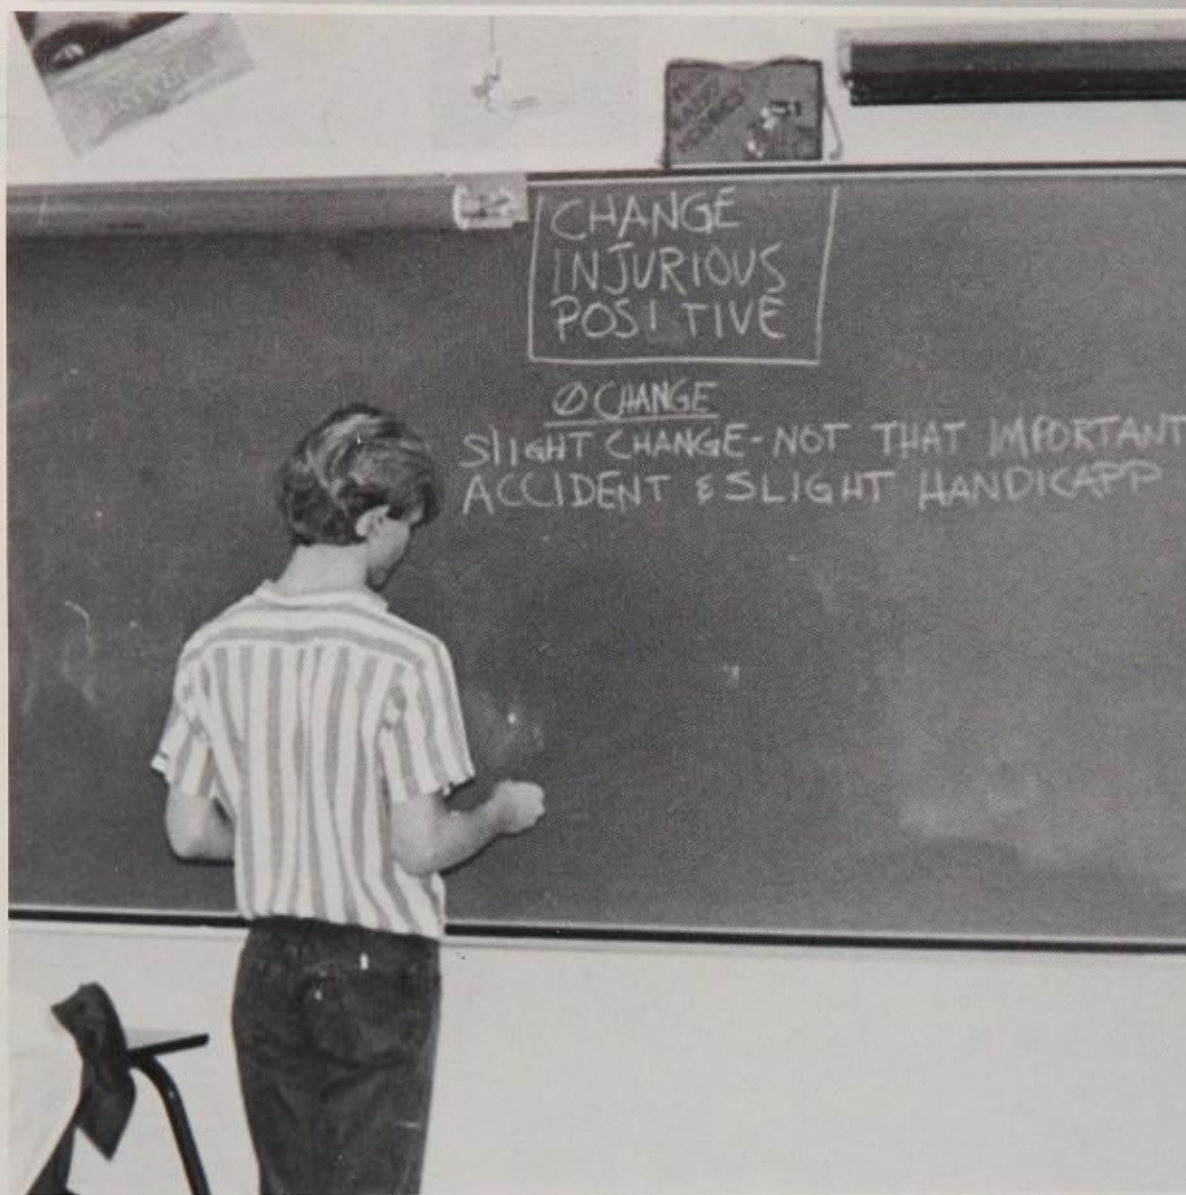

This year's Pep Squad consisted of about 110 members. They have helped the school in many ways and have made the football games louder. "The Pep Squad has increased school spirit by letting other students see spirit in action," claimed Mrs. Cota, the squad's sponsor.

The football players really appreciate the support they receive from the Pep Squad. As for the spectators, Mrs. Cota stated, "I think the Pep Squad is well-perceived."

There are pros and cons concerning the Pep Squad, but, "When there was no spirit at all," Mrs. Cota explained, "the Pep Squad was the first group to do anything about creating a sense of pride at Deer Valley." She also believes that the Pep Squad will continue its success in the future.

Senior Bill Nelson writes some important facts on the board during one of the many meetings that were held throughout the year.

Organizations bring honor to our campus

The Academic Decathlon, sponsored by Dr. Jean Oracheff and Ms. Saroj Jagernauth, organized a thirty-member team. The team was in its second year of competition after a strong first-year sixth place showing in 1985-86, according to former sponsor Jeanne Sabrack.

The decathlon is a nationwide competition to promote and reward academic endeavors. It is composed of thirty seniors and juniors who compete for scholarships and awards. The big finale of the competition is the Super Quiz.

"This Year's Super Quiz will be based on the Constitution of the United States," said Oracheff. Her goal for the year was to "get a well-rounded team that gets along and enjoys what they're doing," she said.

The Mock Trial team, under the direction of Mrs. Kathy Hedges, had a strong year. Tryouts were held October 14th, and the team was chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith (The team advising attorney), Mr. O'Bryan, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. Joyce Stoffers, and Dwane Fox.

Mock trial meetings were held every Tuesdays and Thursdays of November, Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays in December, and Thursdays over spring break.

This organization is a stepping stone to involvement in various legal organizations. The team travels within the state to compete in a number of tournaments.

The Young Republicans were new on campus, a group whose goal was to learn about and work with people in the Republican party throughout the state. Members worked on election campaigns in November for such nootables as newly-elected Governor Evan' Mecham.

Young Republicans: Hilary Weinberg, Mrs. Cota, Bill Nelson.

SENIORS

Being a senior has its advantages, such as being able to purchase prom tickets before anyone, having a little pull at school assemblies, and the mere fact that you're going to graduate on June 3, 1987.

You've made an impression on your teachers by the crazy things you did, the many excuses given for tardies, and by just being you.

You've made an impression on the administration by your grades, athletic ability, your special 'knack' for getting in trouble, or your involvement in the student government.

Observing the various spirit arousing activities held during the first assembly, seniors Marcy Vane and Mike Dustin are captured by the antics of the VW bug relays welcoming students to a new year at Deer Valley.

Sonja Morse and Joe Luque find out some advantages of being seniors, like having top lockers.

Displaying school spirit during homecoming spirit week, Chris Kieselbach, senior, loves the participation exhibited by the students in front of the dunk tank.

Hovering over the silent horizon, the sun's cool rays catch senior Mike Freeman as he performs his daily ritual of preparing the flag for raising.

Mrs. Lisa Cota, history teacher, has been the sponsor for the Class of '87 for the last four years.

CLASS SPONSOR FEELS CLOSE TO THE CLASS OF '87

Mrs. Lisa Cota has been an advisor to the Senior Class since they were freshmen. After four years, she feels closer than ever to the seniors.

Mrs. Cota teaches American history and sociology and feels that both are important classes to take.

"Sociology makes you aware of problems and how to get help. If it's a problem, we talk about it."

Mrs. Cota has two children - Stephen, 7, and Samantha, 3. She graduated from Florida Atlantic University and has a B.A.E. (Bachelor of Arts and Education) and a M.Ed. (Masters of Education) degree.

She moved here from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and has lived here 9 years.

Besides advising the Senior Class, she is also the Pep Squad sponsor and is one of the most spirited teachers in the school. In her spare time she tries to raise her family and root for the Miami Dolphins as much as possible.

The best part of being the Senior Class advisor is that Mrs. Cota feels close to the class members. "It's nice to have someone ask your advice on upcoming events. Students make me feel special," she said.

SKILL IN WRESTLING RESULTS IN TRIP TO CHINA

Last summer, while most people were kicking back in the sun and getting tan, Shawn Edwards spent 3 weeks getting acquainted with the lifestyle and culture of the People's Republic of China.

Under the auspices of the U.S.A. Freestyle Wrestling Association, Shawn, along with 15 other wrestlers and 4 coaches, journeyed to Asia for the Arizona-Chinese Cultural Exchange.

The Exchange took them through cities like Ku Ming, Baijing, and Kuan Jo, with the smallest city having a population of roughly 3 million. "There were just so many people," remembers Shawn, "and it was weird, because their main way of traveling was by bicycle."

The group toured throughout China, stopping at many of its temples and religious shrines. They also visited the Great Wall, and according to Shawn, its length would be approximately from the coast of California to the coast of Florida. "The only way to describe it is huge," he said with a smile.

While there, besides having to adjust to the major changes in China's everyday life, Shawn also had to cope with the vast differences in food. "We ate things like squid, octopus, donkey, water buffalo, duck, and fish eyes (for good luck). And we had to learn to use chopsticks!" he laughed.

Senior Kami Coleman is preparing for her debut which will take place in the spring.

SENIOR PREPARES FOR ROLE AS DEBUTANTE

In today's hurried society of convenience, it may come as quite a surprise to find that there are still some students concerned with proper etiquette.

One of these teens is senior Kami Coleman, who is participating in the Cotillion, an organization geared towards teaching grace and poise to female high school seniors.

To enter, each girl has a number of steps to go through to obtain membership.

She must be nominated by a former member. Once this is done, she needs to meet certain standards.

These include a grade point average of 3.0, an active membership in school and church activities and active participation in community projects.

Kami is planning on attending college next year and majoring in either psychology or a foreign language. She is currently in German 5-6.

The Cotillion meets every Wednesday for two hours and sometimes this time includes cultural events such as the ballet.

These classes last all year and end on April 1 when the girls are presented to society at a debutante ball given for them at the Arizona Biltmore.

Kami participates in the German Club and also shows her school spirit by being a member of the flag line.

In Kami's words the Cotillion will "prepare girls for the real world."

UNDERCLASSMEN

Good friends Stacy Kimes, Karen Schwoerer, and Susan Bendon, sophomores, meet in front of the portables.

Underclassmen have some advantages over the seniors.

Underclassmen can put off decisions concerning colleges and careers. They can spend time going to parties and worrying about their social lives instead of wondering how they're going to pay for college and whether or not they are going to graduate.

For seniors this year is their last. They'll have to say good-bye to all their friends, but the underclassmen still have their remaining high school years to think about and enjoy.

"DV ... Skyhawks ... DV ... Skyhawks!" chants the pep squad as they provide vocal support for the athletic teams.

JUNIORS ORDER CLASS RINGS IN OCTOBER

A Jostens representative came out to the Junior English classes on Monday Oct. 6 in the auditorium. He opened the presentation by showing William the "Refrigerator" Perry's Super Bowl Ring, which was a size 23.

The newest addition to The Jostens class ring collection is the Black Hills Gold; this stylish ring has 3 different types of gold. The juniors got to select how they wanted to have their rings personalized. They could put their names on them or choose a symbol for an activity that they had participated in, or the mascot. Jostens also offers to change any school ring if a person changed schools during their high school years, for free.

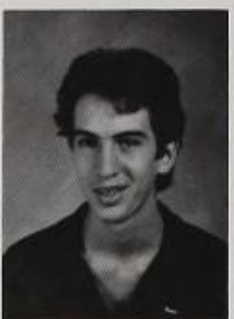

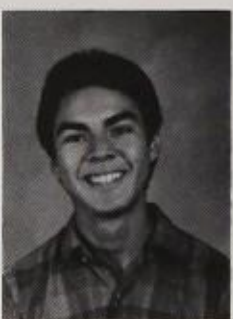

In addition to their high quality Senior high rings, Jostens has made the Super Bowl rings for the last 5 years.

Taking it slowly over a speed bump Junior, Paul Kuchenbeiser tries to impress his drivers ed teacher.

DRIVERS' CLASS TEACHES SAFE DRIVING HABITS

Driver Education is a class in which students learn the important things about driving. Not the driving part necessarily but something much more important, the importance of safe and common-sense driving. When asked what he thought about the students taking the course this year, Mr. Witkowski, driver ed instructor said "The students are enthusiastic and interested in learning about safe driving habits."

The class is mostly made up of juniors and sophomores, with the minimum age being fifteen and seven months so that the students are eligible to get their permit if they wish to get their actual driving experience through the schools driving program which is available to students.

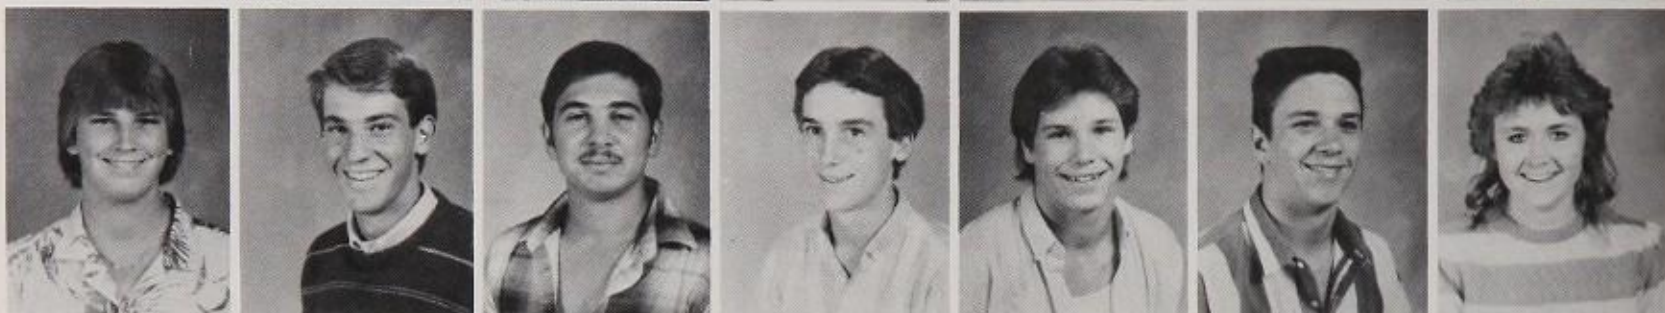

When asked what he thought of the class Paul Crosby Junior said, "It saves me money on my insurance."

GIRL DREAMS OF BROADWAY

Kelly Williams

If you see a petite female, hiding behind her long brown and blonde hair, you've found Deana Scott, junior.

Deana is currently a dance 5-6 student here at Deer Valley and her class was taught by Miss Meyers.

She says her favorite type of dance is ballet then tap.

Deana took classes at THE DANCE SHOPPE which is located at 19th and Bell. The classes she took included ballet, modern, and tap.

Some major influences for her are, Mikel Barishnakov and Gene Kelly.

When asked what she wanted to do after graduation, she replied, "When I graduate, I want to attend the University of Southern California or the University of Los Angeles and receive a masters degree in dance.

Her ambition is to dance on Broadway. But if that doesn't happen, she would like to be a choreographer.

On weekends and in her spare time, she likes to attend football games, school dances, go shopping and go to Chapter 11.

Concentrating on her next dance performance, Deana Scott takes time out for the SOARING camera.

Jason Meeker was always happy and had a great outlook on life. Here he is having a good time sledding in the snow.

SADDENED SCHOOL REMEMBERS FRIENDLY STUDENT

Jason Meeker, Class of 1988, died in a motorcycle accident June 19, 1986, in Riverside, California.

Jason was visiting his father at the time. His brother, Matthew, was also killed. (Matthew did not attend Deer Valley).

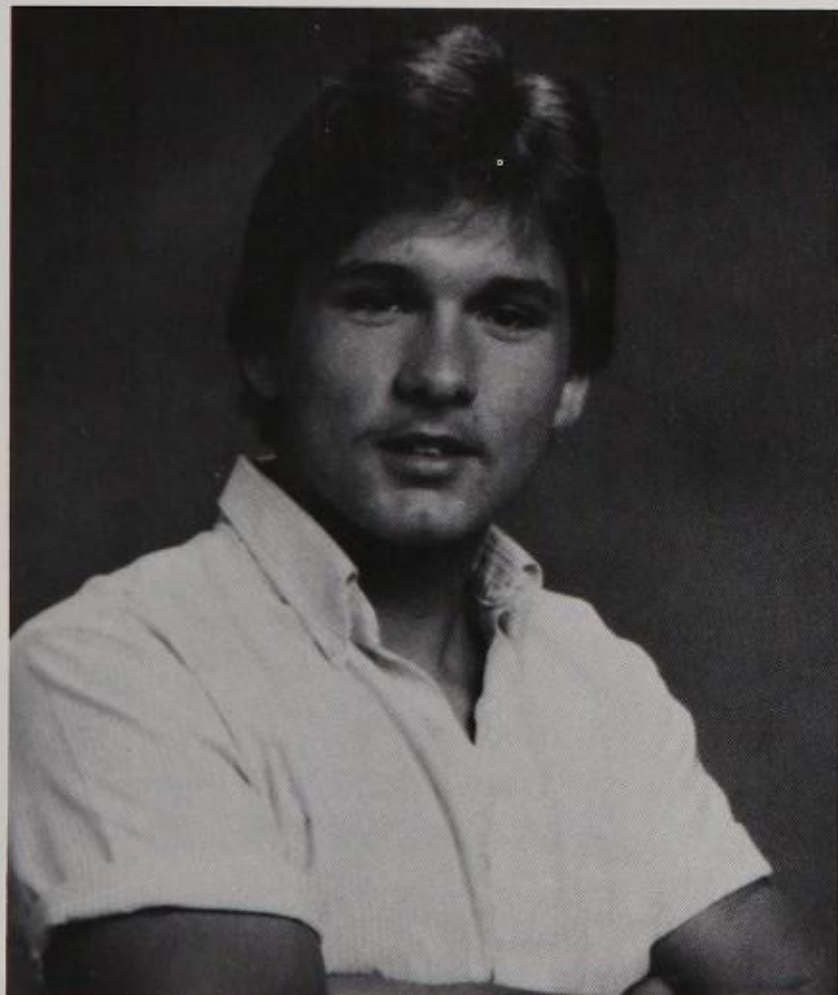

Jason was a fine student whose hobbies included hunting, fishing, camping, and baseball. He learned how to slalom ski last summer and was quite good, and Jason was also fond of drawing.

He planned to attend college upon graduation.

Jason will be sorely missed by his family, friends, and everyone on campus. He was very special, and his memory will live on forever.

IN MEMORY

In memorial, Craig Larsen beloved student and athlete.

ATHLETE REMEMBERED WITH LOVE

Starting varsity football defensive end Craig Larsen, junior, died August 28, 1986, during practice.

"It happened about twenty minutes into the practice," said Coach Tony Valenzuela.

Doctors indicated that Craig died of a heart problem of unknown origin called idiopathic cardiomyopathy.

To pay tribute to Craig, members of the football team wore black armbands, and Larsen's number (43), on their helmets during the first game of the season. The Skyhawks won the game.

Sophomore Jesse Garcia explained, "We are going to wear his number on our helmets and a black armband on our left arm for the rest of the season."

Craig was one of Deer Valley's finest athletes and students, and his example will be admired for years to come.

A PRIZE WINNING FLOAT

The day before the competition the sophomore float had been tampered with, but that didn't stop them; the sophomores had worked hard getting ready for the homecoming. The float was a winner.

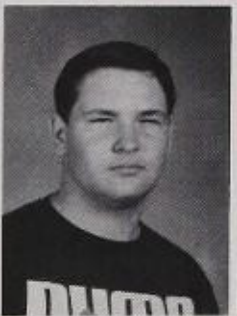

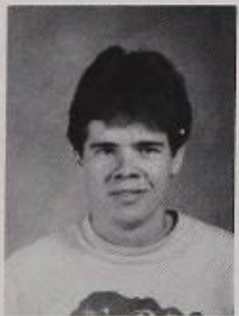

The "Go Hawaiian" theme for this year's 1986 homecoming got the sophomores their first place award.

The float was filled with all sorts of Hawaiian trade marks, including erupting volcanos, palm trees, beach girls in grass skirts and leis, and throwing candy all at half time.

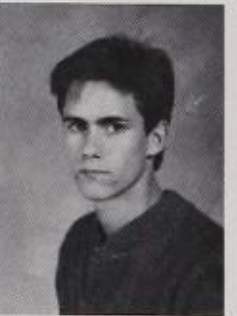

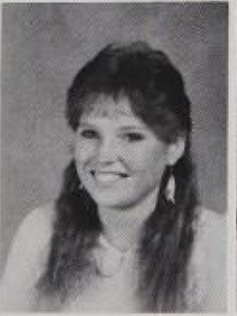

"We had a lot of fun doing it. Even though the float got trashed, we pulled it together at the end," said sophomore Toby Thomas.

BEING A SOPHOMORE

To be a sophomore is to have a little bit more freedom; you don't get treated as a freshman, but also don't get treated as a Senior. You may also be able to get away with some things but not a whole lot. This year is where you may start looking towards the future. - Tanzy Toves

To me being a sophomore means three things to me, one of them is that I'm not a freshman anymore, the second thing is that I'm going to be an upperclassmen next year. The last reason is I finally get to drive! That is what being a sophomore means to me. -Lisa Espinosa

To be a sophomore means two years left of high school. As long as I'm in tenth grade I will continue to be a lower classmen, therefore, not enhancing my ego but preserving my confidence. - Brad Knott

After entering my sophomore year, I am one year closer to being a freshman in college which begins four more years of the educational cycle, which leads to more emotional despair and physical let down.- Rob Zelms

SOPHOMORE SWIMS TO EXCELLENCE

Before moving to Arizona from Minnesota in 1980 Sean Geraghty, sophomore was on a swim team called the Pigeons. For the two years that he was with them he won 40 ribbons, 20 trophies, 35 medals and 20 certificates. Considering that he was not yet seven this was quite an achievement. After moving to Arizona he started to swim at Glendale Community College. He joined the team Gauchos, and for four years they were number one in the state. With the help of his three coaches: Bill, Charlie and Bud he mastered his strokes. His favorites are the freestyle and butterfly strokes. He has received national recognition in setting records in the 100 yard, 100 meter, 50 yard, 50 meter, and the 200 yard. He has competed in different states such as California, Texas and all over Arizona. "I have won many awards," states Sean, "They number in the 100's, and although I've thought about the Olympics and I love my sport very much, I've decided to stop competing for a while. Maybe someday I'll go back to swimming, but for now, no."

PRESIDENT SHOWS LEADERSHIP

Tracey Kieselbach, freshman, started off her first year in high school in a rather large way: as President of the freshman student body.

"I wanted to meet people and get really involved in my school, and student government seemed the best way to do it.", she said.

Apparently it was, for on September ninth, Tracey was elected as the president of the class of '90. This was not Tracey's first experience in student government activities. "In seventh grade, I was a representative and in eighth grade I had been elected Vice-President." Her background shows that Tracey possesses the experience and leadership qualities for the job of class president.

"I wanted to get the freshman more involved in what goes on in their school, and to help it out in any way possible.", Tracey replied when asked why she wanted to become president. Tracey also said that she planned to stay involved with student government the remainder of her high school years.

Freshman Tracey Kieselbach hopes to bring leadership experience to her position as class president.

Washing and scrubbing can be worth while activities when it helps your class make money. Kim Goebel, Lanna Bishop, and Maureen Keelen assist at the freshman car wash.

FRESHMEN CLEAN UP

Washing! Rinsing! Shining! On November 8, 1986 the freshman class held a car wash on 35th and Peoria.

The purpose for the fund-raising car wash was to raise money for the class of '90. The car wash had been organized by the student officers and it was very successful because of the great turnout.

The freshman raised approximately one hundred and seventy dollars. The car wash started at about 9:00 a.m. and ended about 1:00 p.m.

When asked what she thought of the car wash, Tracey Kieselbach, freshman class president replied, "Overall we thought that the car wash was a great success. We all had a lot of fun getting wet and earning money."

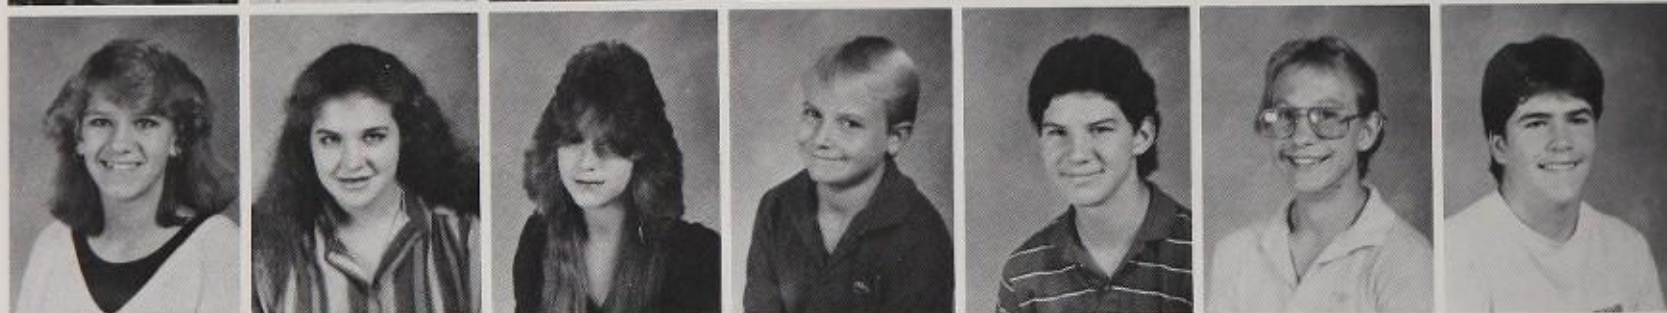

The money from all of the fund-raisers will go to support class activities in the future, such as the prom, field trips, equipment, and other important class needs.

A second car wash was held on November 22nd. It was very successful.

Look at our sports program!

Look at our football team who suffered from the loss of a fellow teammate and still almost managed to clinch a playoff spot.

Look at our golf team who, over the years has put our name in the top ranking spots, once again placed fifth in the state.

Look at the girls volleyball team, who headed by a new head coach, had a very successful season.

Look at our wrestling team who has two outstanding wrestlers who travel to foreign countries during the summer to broaden their skills for the upcoming season.

Look at the cheerleaders who rooted our teams on to victory, and pulled for them when they lost.

Look at the type of person it takes to be an athlete. They give up their free time to practice hard so they represent Deer Valley well against other schools.

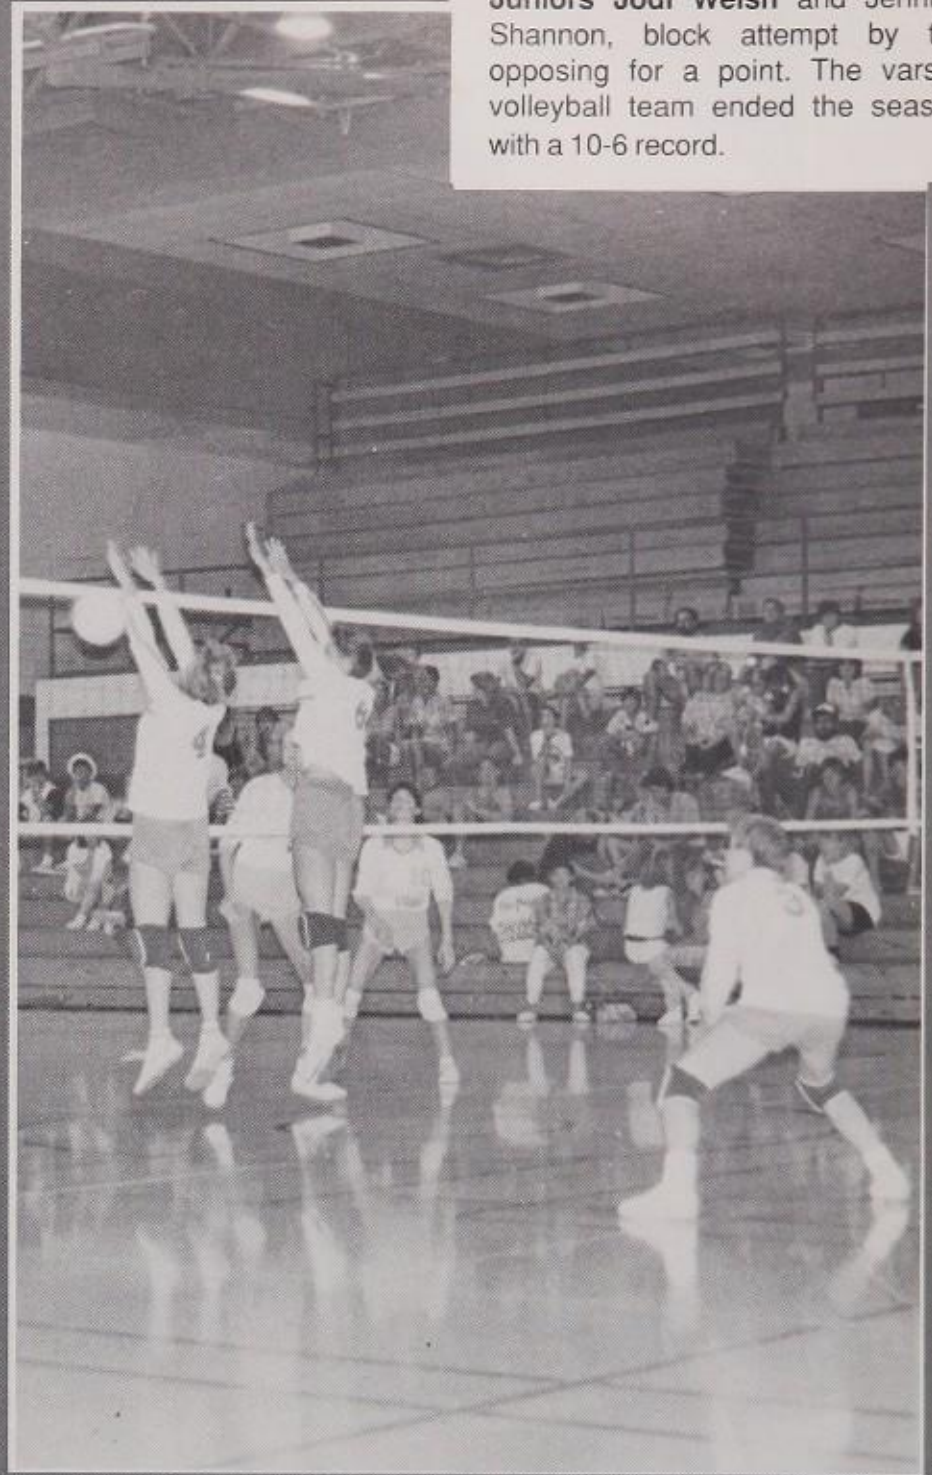

Look at this!! Our sports program.

MARKS GRIDDER'S SEASON

The grapplers record may be deceiving.

If it's a question of potential, head coach Tony Valenzuela has the answer for you. "In certain ballgames we played up to our potential. At times we looked great, like a super team, and at times we look like we don't know what we're doing."

Quarterback Nick Portanova senior, gives his views on four years of football. "I had a good four years in football at Deer Valley. I enjoyed high school and will miss the fun very much. I would like to thank all the coaches and the teachers for the good times. High school is a fun place to be in, but now it's time to hit the real world."

REFLECT ON TYING SEASON

The Varsity football team broke even with a 5-5 record this season.

The Skyhawks played well as they shut out Corona del Sol 7-0 in the season opener. Matt Witkowski, junior received an eight yard pass from quarter back Nick Portonova, senior in the endzone marking the Skyhawks first victory of the season.

Four more victories surfaced after Deer Valley's slaying of the Aztecs.

Perhaps the most heartfelt or emotional victory was against Greenway (21-12).

"Greenway was a game we had to win."

Since Greenway is right next door, they are one of our biggest rivals.

"Greenway was a game we had to win. The game determined who has bragging rights in the pizza parlor that year." Quipped head coach Tony Valenzuela.

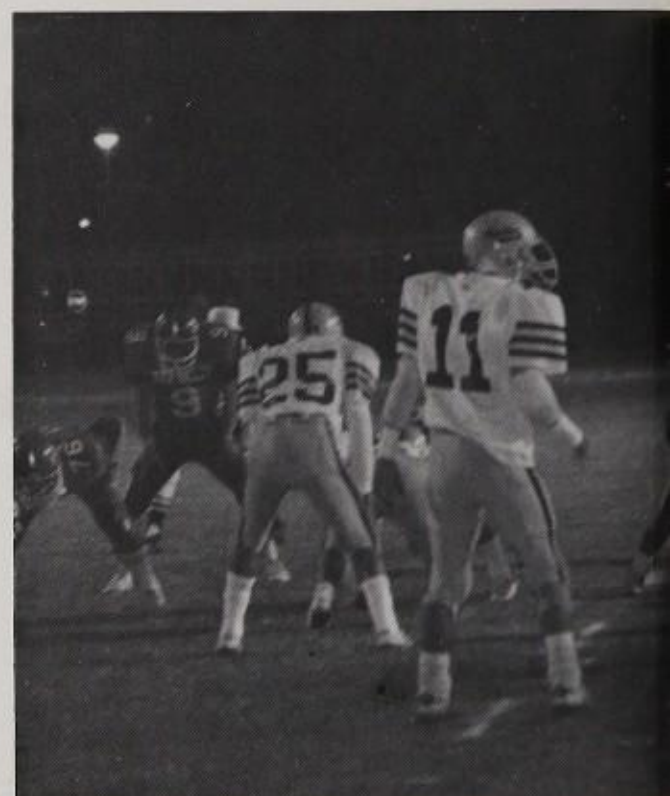

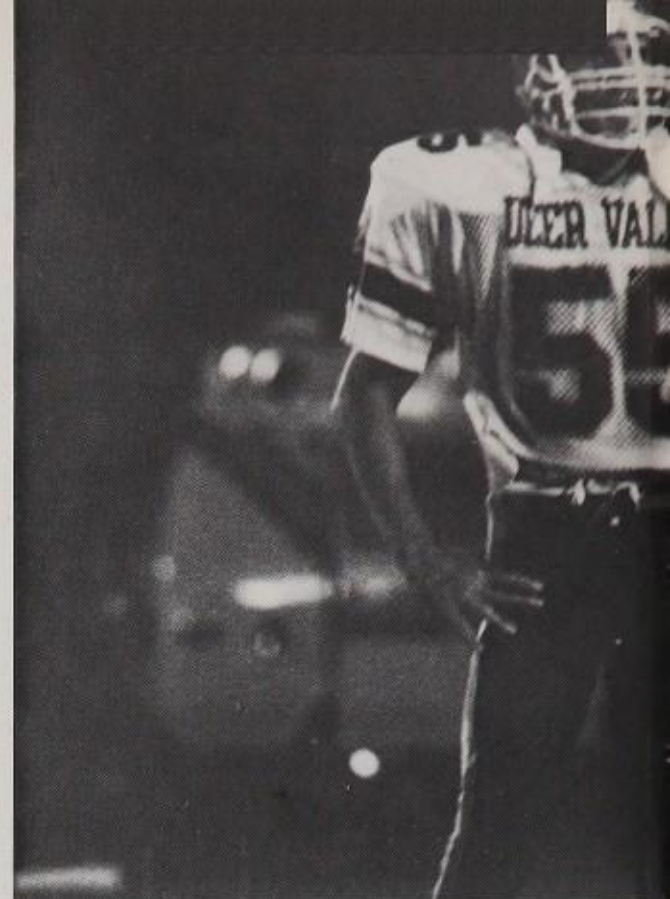

Perhaps the closest game of the season was the infamous Apollo-Deer Valley game. The Skyhawks and Hawks were in a neck and neck competition for the win. (14-14). As the clock ticked off the minutes into overtime, Apollo stood victorious. NOT by scoring a touchdown, or even kicking a field goal, but by gaining three more yards than the Skyhawks. The final score was, (15-14).

Bobby Santa Maria, junior was quoted saying, "We did good, but we could of done better."

Joe Torres, Senior, runs toward a gang of Skyhawks that are crushing a Corona Aztec.

#86 Howard Karner is blocking a punt against the opponent Horizon.

Kirk Wittenburger, senior, and Buddy Bugh, senior, take a quiet moment out during a game.

Kirk Wittenburger, senior, awaits the call from Nick Portanova, senior.

While John Fellens, senior, runs by the Huskies, Matt Witkowski, junior, blocks his man and Mike Tedeschi, senior, buries his defender.

CONCENTRATION BRINGS VICTORY

Many students believe that golf is a sport enjoyed only by the pros and doctors. However, this is not true, according to this year's golf team. Bill Gates, sophomore, commented, "I like to play golf, it gives me time to forget about my cares and relax."

The golf team did extremely well this year. "It's the best year the golf team has ever had. Our record was 26 wins and 2 losses. We came in second in the Skyline and fifth in the state," stated Mr. Talley.

"IT'S THE BEST YEAR THE GOLF TEAM HAS EVER HAD."

Mike Rudosky, sophomore, was named the most valuable golfer because of his low overall average.

Mr. Talley also explained, "Golf takes a tremendous amount of hand eye coordination. The slightest mistake can be amplified over the distance you hit the ball. You almost have to do each shot perfectly."

"The wrestlers and coaches appreciate having the Wrestlerettes because they help to motivate the team and increase their morale," said Mrs. Showers.

Mrs. Showers became their sponsor in order for the school to have Wrestlerettes. She also explained, "I wanted to develop the Wrestlerettes into a more positive and unified group of students."

Coach Marchese said, "The team was extremely successful because they came together and played as a team even though there were many different personalities."

Two of their most outstanding players were senior, Cori Darnell and junior, Stacey Frate. "Cori was an excellent first baseman who saved many bad throws and turned them into outs," Coach Marchese explained. She was also one of the team's best hitters. Stacey was the team's number one pitcher. We broke two school records by pitching the most strikeouts this season and having the most innings pitched. Stacey also won two games by hitting homeruns.

Dedication and practice put perspectives in view

Under the excellent supervision of Head coach Jim Addabbo, this year's track team just might follow in the footsteps of last season's award winning team.

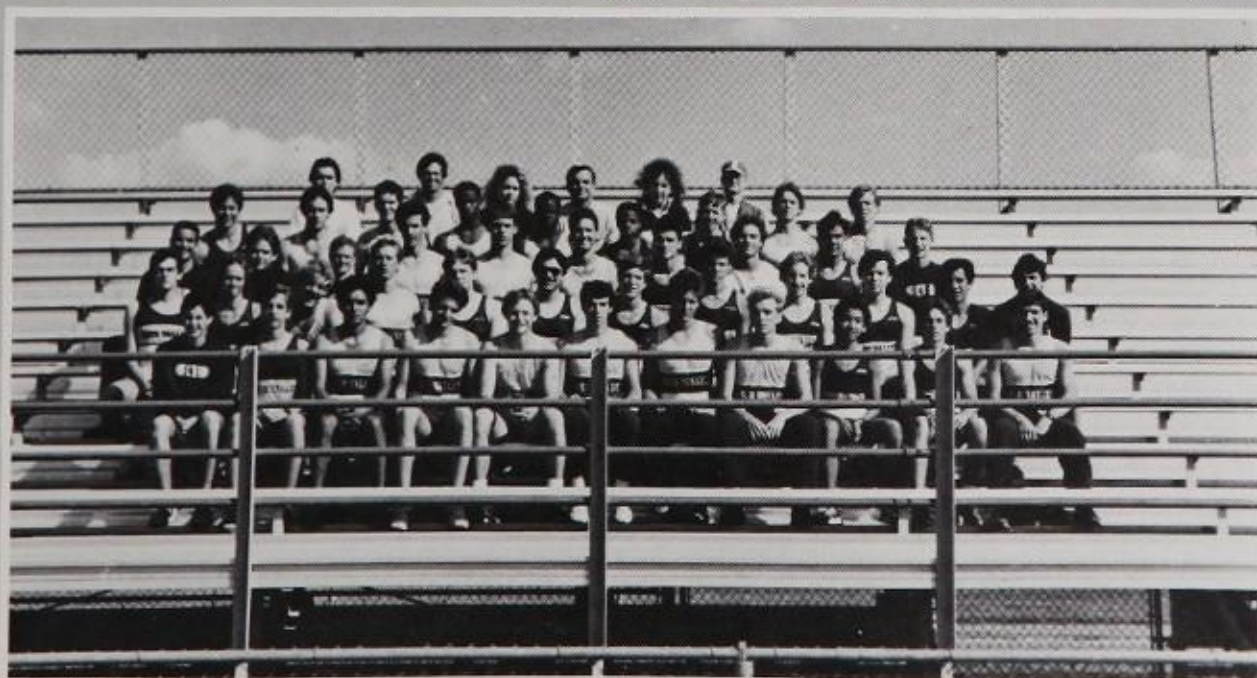

Coach Addabbo isn't alone on the coaching staff. He is backed by, Mike Forrest, Clyde Tubic, Marilyn France, and Kim Ulrich-Suss.

Stephen Carroll, senior, is a distance runner. Being a distance runner, he focuses on endurance and an ability to run long distances. Carroll gave his opinion on this season as, "Even though this years track team is smaller than last years, and a lot of key runners graduated, there's still potential in both the runners and the coaches to have a winning season. It's just a matter of pulling it all together."

Practices are a big part of any type of sport. The track team practices Monday thru Friday 2:35-4:30. A good method according to coach Addabbo is that if an athlete is committed to working out, he/she will give 100% at a track meet.

Addabbo likes working with the athletes because he enjoys helping them reach goals.

TEACHING OFFERS DIVERSITY

Mark Palombo, has been teaching at Deer Valley for three years. When asked what had brought him to Deer Valley, he answered "It was a growing district, and it had an excellent business department."

Mr. Palombo, who graduated from ASU, had achieved an AA in Construction Drafting and a BA in Business Education. He went to high school at Paradise Valley.

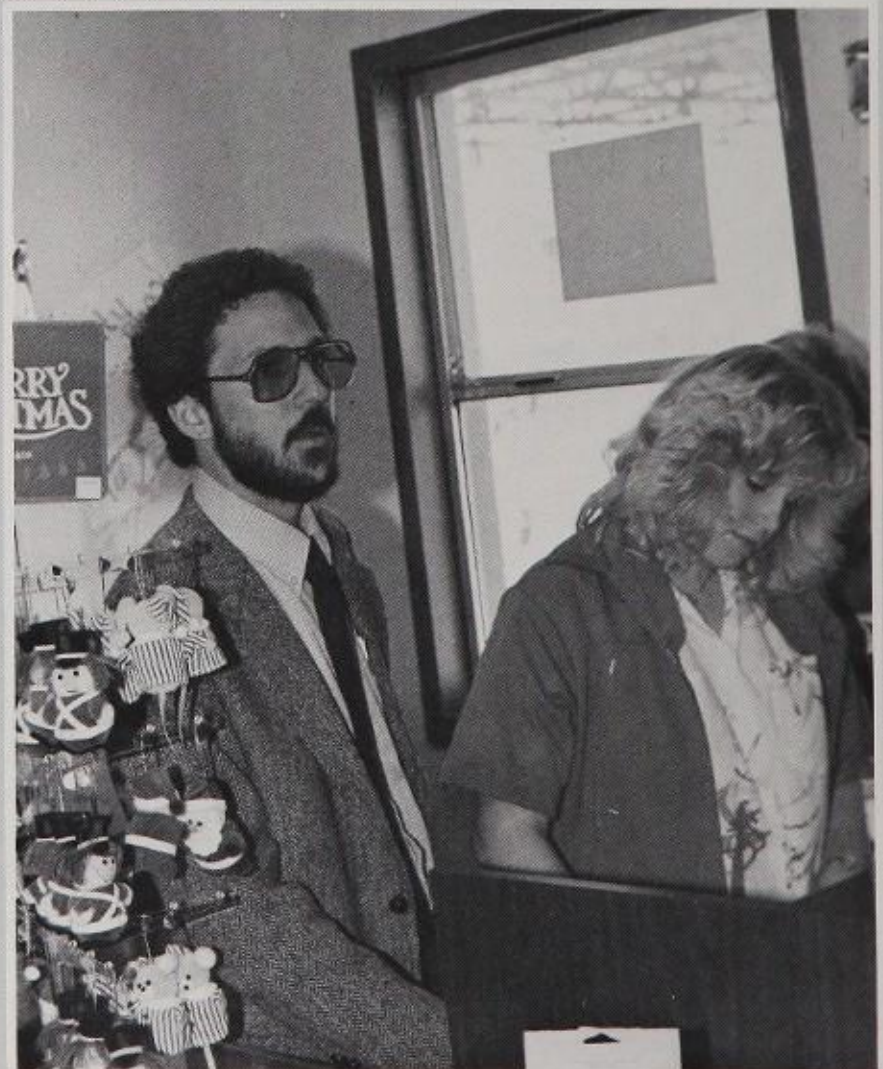

"It's really a challenge understanding students' needs, but it is a lot of fun." He also commented on what it meant to him to be a teacher. "It's a big responsibility, and a very diverse field of work."

While at Deer Valley Mr. Palombo has seen a few changes through the years. "The school is more organized, class selection has grown and school spirit has increased a lot."

BELL NOMINATED FOR STATE TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Wildlife biology and science teacher, Mr. Chuck Bell, was nominated for teacher of the year award. "Late in August, Dr. Smith informed me that I had been one of the nominees." Mr. Bell commented when he was asked how he had found out about the news. Mr. Bell was hired by Dr. Sims straight out of college to work at Deer Valley Junior High. He liked it so much that he stayed with the district. Mr. Bell has been teaching for thirteen years: six at the junior high level and seven at the high school level.

When asked what wild life biology involved, he answered, "Wild life biology deals with ecology and animal behavior, in contrast to regular biology."

"My greatest reason for teaching is seeing students achieve.", was his answer when he was asked what working with students has meant to him. He also commented on what it meant to be a teacher. "To me being a teacher is helping students and being sensitive to academic and emotional needs. Also providing support and being a friend to students."

MUSIC MOTIVATES TEENS

With a degree in music education, Mr. Ron Dickson directs the Skyhawk band.

As a graduate of Golden City East, Michigan, Mr. Dickson moved to Arizona in 1979 to use his major instrumental music to teach teens.

For one year he took the position of assistant director at Thunderbird High School before moving to Saquaro High to direct himself for another four years. He has been directing the band here at Deer Valley for three years now.

Outside of school Mr. Dickson enjoys such activities as racquetball, tennis, and golf. Occasionally he will also umpire for the baseball and softball games at various high schools.

"I really enjoy it here at Deer Valley," Dickson comments. "The kids are really great, not just as students, but also as people."

During his free time Mr. Dickson helps out one of his students.

The outdoor adventure group takes field trips to places like the Grand Canyon to hike the Havasupai trail and fishing in Payson.

When not crosscountry skiing, fishing, hunting or horseback riding, she enjoys spending time at her second home at Stoneman Lake.

ENGLISH TEACHER WINS HONOR, KISSES PIG

Mrs. Joanne Talarico attended the University of Pennsylvania for four years. "I decided to teach English because it is a beautiful language. I love to read, and I am a literary person."

She moved to Arizona in 1975. She first taught at the junior high, but came to Deer Valley High School when it opened.

This year, Mrs. Talarico was chosen for the Kiss the Pig contest. "I was shocked and surprised that people would vote for me. I also felt honored because I love piglets," she explained.

Mrs. Talarico enjoys playing basketball as well as other things. "I love to decorate and I like to break dance!"

"The strangest thing I've ever encountered in school was in 1967 when I walked into an AP class and talked for about a half an hour. Then I realized it wasn't my class!" said Talarico.

The worst thing that happened in one of her classes was when some students carried her out of the room and put her in the boys' bathroom sink.

PRACTICAL ARTS OFFER LIFE-TIME INTEREST, CAREER

Devoting half of his life to Industrial Education, Mr. Gary McSpadden, graphic arts and Photo 1-2 teacher, enjoys the combination of working with high school students and their positive attitudes toward learning.

Mr. McSpadden attended Phoenix College and then went on to study Industrial Education at Arizona State University. "Besides attending school full time, I spent 40 hours a week running my own screen printing and photo business," he said.

Working with high school students on stage craft influenced him in making the decision to teach. He chose high school because he felt that the students would be easier to relate to because of their maturity.

Aside from teaching, Mr. McSpadden enjoys playing racquetball, working with his computer, and building model airplanes. "I do a little bit of everything, but my job keeps me out of other extra-curricular activities I used to be involved with," he commented.

Mr. McSpadden enjoys the students and appreciates those who try their hardest whether or not they succeed.

"Deer Valley, as a whole, is a good school. Ninety per cent of the students are great. It's the other ten per cent that cause the headaches," he said.

Mr. McSpadden feels that contributing time to his students is very important. "Most students will talk to me when they have a problem; that's good when you're a teacher."

Mr. McSpadden has no radical plans for the future; he would just like to improve on what he's doing now.

Mr. Gary McSpadden shows his dedication to graphic arts.

Dr. E. Jim Smith, principal, leads the administrative team in the unified effort that characterized the 1986-87 school year.

DR. SMITH LEADS UNIFIED TEAM

This year Dr. E. Jim Smith became Deer Valley's third principal. This enabled him to become more involved in helping students and teachers with their problems.

"Overall, my first semester as principal of DVHS has been very rewarding. Almost without fail students, staff, and parents have responded when asked to assist in making improvements in the campus. I'm looking forward to continued unified effort in making DVHS the best possible high school," commented Dr. Smith.

Dr. Smith replaced last year's Principal Robert J. Sauter who left last June to take a job as director of curriculum in the district office. Sauter was the principal after Dr. Lanny Kope who was the principal when the school opened in 1980.

SMITH ENJOYS STUDENTS

Mr. Jerry Smith is the new associate principal at Deer Valley High School. He describes his position as new and exciting.

"I enjoy working with our students and the variety of responsibilities associated with the position. A positive atmosphere exists at Deer Valley which makes spending one third of your life here enjoyable and exciting." Smith commented.

Mr. Smith moved up from assistant principal in charge of athletics and activities.

With the help and support of Principal Dr. E. Jim Smith, this year promised to be one of the best possible and the experience and cooperation of the teachers, faculty, and student body made this year truly spectacular.

ADMINISTRATIVE TEAM GUIDES STUDENT BODY

Mr. Art Nichlas, assistant principal in charge of student conduct, takes care of discipline problems that arise within the student body. This makes him one of the most well-known administrators.

As the assistant principal facilities and athletics, Mr. Wayne Kindall is a very familiar face around campus. All of the sports, activities, and facilities fall under his jurisdiction.

Ms. Barbara Daggett, assistant principal/attendance is our first women administrator. She has now finally accomplished her long sought after goal, while still maintaining her first love- teaching. Although she is an assistant principal, she still handles a homeroom and teaches Student Government and reading classes.

Food! Cleanliness! Security! Are these things important to you as a student? Of course, they are.

The cafeteria staff comes in in the morning and cooks and serves you your lunch. They work hard to do their best so you don't have to worry about getting up earlier in the morning to pack your lunch. You can always count on someone else taking care of it.

The maintenance staff works hard at keeping our campus clean. They maintain a beautiful school environment for us.

The campus monitors make this campus safe, so we can learn in a safe environment.

All of these people are important around our campus and it's hard to imagine what school would be like without them.

You as a student can not truly picture the work that is put into a yearbook. You can not imagine all the pictures taken, all of the stories written, all of the layouts drawn and redrawn. The endless Friday nights in room 613, the large amounts of sausage and onion pizza eaten, the gallons of pop drunk, and the boxes of rubber bands shot.

Our 33 member family has combined the 1986-87 school year into 256 pages especially for you, the student. We hope this book makes you laugh, cry, remember, and look at this year as something special. Something that you will never forget, like a first date, your best friend, or your favorite teacher. You will be able to open up to page one and re-live the year by looking at pictures and reading the copy. You can remember the parties, football games, pep assemblies, and all of the friends made. Think of all the growing up that you did during your four years here at Deer Valley. Take a look at all of your accomplishments. Look At This!

The term "hard work pays off" is very true in this situation. Our staff worked very hard so you would have something to look back on in the years to come. We didn't settle for second best either; Ms. Houpt saw to it that we only turned in the highest quality of work possible. This might seem easy to you but with a staff of only 33 this was a difficult task to accomplish. Completing this task meant that one had to adjust his way of life during deadline time. Staying at school until 10:30 on Friday nights or coming in over vacations became routine activities. We all kept working hard though, knowing that in the end it would pay off. The end result, I feel, is of the highest quality possible. This book will be hard to duplicate by not only other schools in the state, but by other schools in the nation. I am very proud of this book and I only hope you are too. After all your high school years will probably be the most memorable years of your life. So when you want to look back and relive some of those memories, you can sit down and LOOK AT THIS!

COLOPHON

The 1987 Soaring was planned and designed by yearbook students at Deer Valley High School as a part of the school's journalism program. Staff members met for a one hour class each day and for countless hours after school, weekends and on vacations.

Soaring '87-Look at This! was printed by Jostens Printing Company of Visalia, California. The yearbook representative was Steve Wirrig. Updike Studio of Glendale, Arizona took the underclass pictures and the color senior portraits. Updike also shot and printed photos in the opening color section in addition to providing valuable assistance and support. T-Bird photo of Glendale, Arizona provided 24-hour color processing.

The yearbook was printed on 80 lb. gloss paper and consisted of 256 pages in a 9 x 12 pt. format. Eight multiples of four color photographs were used with background screens in color blends. The cover is a Litho pictorial in navy with metallic stripes and Aeolus type.

Helvetica type was used for the headlines, body and captions. Body type was set in 12 pt. with headlines in 24, 36 and 42 pt. Subheads were in 18 and 14 pt. Special headlines were set in Aeolus type which was also used on the cover and the index. Special typesetting was done by Duo Type Services of Glendale, Arizona.

Thirty-three students prepared the yearbook for a school of 2,700. Approximately 60% of the student body purchased a yearbook for a cost of $20-25.

UNIQUE YEAR BRINGS NUMEROUS AWARDS IN ALL AREAS

It's over. Another whirlwind year has passed. It was a unique year filled with many changes.

This year's Skyhawk Marching Band marched its way to victory in no less than three state competitions, winning superior ratings in all and winning the prestigious Nunemaker Award at the University of Arizona as well. Channel 3 also awarded the HERO classes a new VCR. Softball Coach Vinnie Marchese was named Skyline Coach of the Year. And FBLA won sweepstakes by having the most first place and second place winners in their regional II conference. They brought home 24 awards, also winning an award for having the largest chapter of the 10 schools in the region that competed.

There was a lot to look at in 1986-87 ... and a lot to look forward to in the years ahead.

HOE.

Medical Arts Teacher Ms. Kay Marshall, R.N., receives their very own VCR from KTVK TV3.

CHANGES AND ACHIEVEMENTS TOP OFF YEAR

Western Savings scholarship finalists Kim Rohrbacher, Cory Reiner, Suzie Kline, Carolyn Overmunk, and Kit Timmer are led by Mrs. Mary Luckenbill, hope to come out on top with their contribution to the society.

Other changes this year included the addition of homeroom to student's schedules. The period was designed to help students get information and make suggestions to the administration on positive changes for the school.

Also to improve the school community, Dr. Smith formed the Principal's Task Force, designed to assist with the problems of the school and make improvements. This group helped implement some of the new, stricter school rules, such as the smoke-hole pass situation and the I.D. card requirements.

The journalism department also soared this year. The Skyhawk Flight won two first place ratings from major national scholastic journalism organizations. Soaring '86 also brought home a first place national rating.

All in all, it was a special year, a year that made you stand up and take notice. It was a year like no other, and you'll catch yourself looking back in years to come.

Outstanding journalism members include Dan Rhoades, Holly Dickinson, Tia Schlunker, Malea Carnicle, Chris Neal. Back row: Stephanie Wilson, Vicki Vancil, Nicole Milam, Shannon Maxwell, Kenn Grace, Andrew Phillips, Eric Johnson, Mike Sortino.

HOMEROOM.

Carrie Talbot watches as Lance Talley and Rich Tarzia take some time out during homeroom to do a cheer.

With the joy on their faces that can only mean graduation, members of the class of '87 enthusiastically toss their caps into the air in the tradition of generations.
